Unprecedented Republican Demonstration in Uniontown.

Torchlight Procession—Over Six Hundred Citizens in Line.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

UNIONTOWN, PA., September 30, 1872.

The largest and grandest torchlight procession ever witnessed in Uniontown took place this evening by the Grant, Wilson and Hartranft clubs. There were about six hundred citizens in the procession with torches and a large number without torches. There seemed to be a spontaneous outpouring of the friends of Hartranft. The procession was headed by a four horse carriage, containing the Rev. Dr. Campbell, Eleazer Robinson, Esq., and Rice G. Hopewood, Esq. In the ranks carrying torches were some of our most prominent citizens. Among them were Uncle Jake Miller, Dr. F. C. Robinson, A. A. Devore, Esq., our candidate for Assembly, Major Clark Breading, and many others. Along the route of the procession men cheered and ladies waved their handkerchiefs, and the most unbounded enthusiasm prevailed. The colored Grant, Wilson and Hartranft club were invited and took part in the procession.

Alleged Registration Frauds in Titusville, Pa.

TITUSVILLE, PA., September 30.—The Daily Evening Press of this city announces that there is a fraudulent registration in Titusville of nearly one thousand names, and the Press intimates that this is part of a system of colonization which has been extensively practiced throughout the entire oil region. The Press is an independent paper, and does not charge the proceeding upon either party. The registration is nearly double that of last year. There is to be a vigorous investigation commenced at once.

Singular Death of a Methodist Minister.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

URBANA, O., September 30, 1872.

Rev. Westly Rector, a local preacher in the M. E. Church, residing in Tremont, Clark county, died last Thursday under singular circumstances. He was lying low with typhoid fever, and on the night of his death two ladies were watching with him. He aroused, saying he wanted to go out. They remonstrated and retired from the room, not thinking he would go out; but on their return in a few minutes found him gone. He was found dead lying near a pair of bars he had let down and passed through, near the house, having nothing on but his night dress. He had wandered out in his delirium. He was to have been married shortly to a very estimable lady in Concord, in this county.

Attempt to Murder an English Family While Asleep.

CAIRO, ILL., September 30.—At Tunnel Hill, on Saturday night, an affray took place among laborers employed at a railroad tunnel, during which three men were stabbed, one whom died while the other two can hardly recover. After the melee an attempt was made to blow up the residence of a saloon keeper named Coner, who had incurred the illwill of the crowd, but the fuse being wet, it failed to ignite the powder, a whole keg of which was placed under the house. Coner and his family, who were asleep, had a narrow escape. Whisky seems to have been the only inciting cause.

Effects of the Storm on Lake Erie.

DETROIT, MICH., September 30.—The following disasters are reported on Lake Erie: The bark Butcher Boy sunk, and probably a total loss; schooners Odds and Fayette Brown ashore and badly damaged. The Annie Voght, which collided with the Butcher Boy and was badly damaged, was brought to the dry dock to-day. The schooners Vanvalkenburg, Phalorope, Kenosha, Yankee Blade, Fenton and Sweepstakes went ashore and are more or less damaged. The brig Montezuma was driven ashore and has gone to pieces. It is reported that the captain's wife was drowned. The lumber barges Treat, Harvest, Belle and Detroit are on the beach. Many scows and small vessels were either sunk or driven ashore.

Victims of the Newburg Lunatic Asylum Fire Found

CLEVELAND, September 30.—The workmen, in clearing away the debris at the lunatic asylum, at Newburg, yesterday afternoon, found the bodies of Miss Walker and Benjamin Burghes and of an iron puddler of Newburg, who has been missing since the fire. Two other persons are still missing. Several of the wards in the wings of the building least injured have been put in order, and a hundred or more patients have been placed in them. Those in the jail and central police station of this city were taken to Newburg on Sunday.

THE OIL REGIONS.

SUSPENSION OF PRODUCTION MOVEMENT.

A Gang of Men Shut Down Wells by Force—Threats to Destroy the Business—Great Excitement.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

PETROLEUM CENTER, PA., September 30, 1872.

About noon to-day a gang of men, said to number one hundred, marched to and shut down all the wells on the Woods, Pearson, Stevenson and several other farms in this vicinity. Report says they threatened to destroy the whole business if started up again. Mr. Woods at once dispatched his superintendent to the farm and started up the wells as soon as the crowd left. On their way to the Central Company's farm, to shut them down, they were met by Justice Reynolds, who succeeded in getting them to disperse. Fears are entertained of trouble to-night, but steps have been taken to prevent further force work in this locality. A report says, Mr. Bronson, Superintendent of the Niagara tract, was forced to shut down his wells by a gang of men to-day. The highest fever of excitement prevailed here to-day, but it is thought it will die out in a day or two.

LATER.—A rumor is current that a body of men are coming here from Franklin to night to force the Central and Columbia companies to shut down, but it is not generally believed. The majority of the wells are shut down here.

The Suspension of Production General.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

ST. PETERSBURG, PA., September 30, 1872.

All pumping wells in this district stopped on the 25th inst., in accordance with agreement, and the drilling wells are coming into line. The movement has met with great success. With but few exceptions, all have complied with the wishes of the majority, encouraged by the increase of one dollar per barrel since the commencement of the movement. The position of producers and operators is very flattering.

Meeting at Franklin.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

FRANKLIN, PA., September 30, 1872.

At a meeting of the oil producers here to-night it was unanimously resolved to shut down all pumping and drilling wells for thirty days, commencing October 1, at twelve o'clock. Some operators were represented as holding back, but the prevailing sentiment was "shut her down, peaceably if we can, forcibly if we must."

By Associated Press.]

TITUSVILLE, PA., September 30.—The oil regions are again at a fever heat. Everywhere the most intense feeling prevails over the movement made to suspend production. Dispatches from the districts generally show that the movement is universal, and there are probably not over fifty wells producing to-night. From some localities it is reported that violence had been resorted to in carrying out the measure, well rigs burned, engines destroyed by sledge hammers, and oil tanks tapped. Some are still strongly holding out against it, but it is thought they will yield, and further violence be avoided. The effect of this movement is already apparent in an advanced and more active market.

THE YERKES PARDON.

The Document Itself—The Reasons and Signers.

PENNSYLVANIA, SS.:

IN THE NAME AND BY THE AUTHORITY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA, JOHN W. GEARY, GOVERNOR OF THE SAID COMMONWEALTH.

To all whom these presents shall come, sends greeting:

WHEREAS, At a Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace in and for the city and county of Philadelphia, held at Philadelphia, in said county, on the fifth day of December, A. D., one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one, a certain Charles T. Yerkes, Jr., was convicted of larceny upon a certain indictment charging him with larceny and embezzlement, and was by the said court on the tenth day of February, 1872, thereupon sentenced that he should pay a fine of five hundred dollars to the Commonwealth, the costs of prosecution, and undergo imprisonment in separate and solitary confinement at labor in the State Penitentiary for the Eastern district for the term of two years and nine months; and,

WHEREAS, It appears by the records of said court that the jury before whom said defendant was tried, in their verdict, recommended him to the mercy of the court; and also, that two of the five judges composing said court dissented from the opinion of the majority on the grounds that the crime of larceny had not been committed by the defendant, and that he had not been convicted according to law; and,

WHEREAS, It is represented to me by numerous letters and petitions now on file in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth that said defendant has heretofore borne an irreproachable character as an honest and intelligent business man, and was in this instance convicted of a crime for an act done by his clerk, in the ordinary routine of duties, and without the knowledge, much less any criminal intent on the part of the defendant, and it is believed by reason of an undue excitement in the public mind at the time, and also that the pardon prayed for is demanded not only for the considerations mentioned, but also from a due regard for the financial interests and prosperity of the city and other creditors of the defendant; and,

WHEREAS, The pardon of the defendant is earnestly prayed for by one hundred and thirty-three respectable members of the Philadelphia bar, of the grounds of doubt whether he was guilty on any legal offense, and by thirty-four members of the Select and Common Councils of said city, protesting their belief in the innocence of the defendant, and by letters and petitions from Col. Thos. A. Scott, Hon. Leonard Myers, Wm. H. Kemble, S. Montgomery Bond, W. W. Irwin, Jos. M. Pile, John C. Bullett, Samuel Dixon, A. J. Drexel, Gen. John F. Hartranft, R. W. Mackey, Col. A. K. McClure, and many other most respectable citizens of Philadelphia.

Now know, therefore, that in consideration of the premises, and by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution, I have pardoned the said Chas. T. Yerkes, Jr., of the crime whereof he is convict as aforesaid, and he is hereby thereof fully pardoned accordingly.

It is hereby stipulated and distinctly understood that this pardon is granted upon the express condition that the same shall be utterly void and of no effect if any money, fee, award, or compensation has been, or shall hereafter be, paid to any person or persons, for or by reason of any service rendered or supposed to be rendered in procuring this pardon, or for or by reason of any cause, matter, or thing, touching or concerning the same.

And it is expressly declared and understood that the acceptance thereof by the said Charles T. Yerkes, Jr., shall be held and regarded as an adoption by him of this condition.

Given under my hand and the great seal of the State, at Harrisburg, this 27th day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two, and of the Commonwealth the ninety-seventh.

By the Governor:

FRANCIS JORDAN,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

GREELEY'S PITTSBURGH SPEECH.

What the Soldiers Have to Say About It—Letter from General Burnside.

HEADQUARTERS VETERAN COMMITTEE,
FIFTH AVENUE HOTEL,
NEW YORK CITY, September 25, 1872.

To the Soldiers and Sailors who served in the Union Army and Navy during the late War:

COMRADES—We, your representatives, met at Pittsburgh and adopted a series of resolutions which you have already seen. You have discovered that we have expressed sentiments which are entertained almost unanimously by the veterans of the country. In view of the fact that Mr. Greeley has charged us with the desire to engender feelings of hate toward the survivors of those who were in armed rebellion against the government, we desire to reiterate our wish that all differences may be obliterated, with this one single condition, that under under no circumstances will we support a man for Chief Magistrate of the nation who, in the hour of his country's greatest danger, did not appreciate the situation, and, by words and acts, step forward to its defense.

We deny that one single word, either in the speeches or the platform of that convention, justifies Mr. Greeley in the remarks which he uttered at Pittsburgh; and his entire lack of courtesy toward the soldiers and sailors who assembled there, serves to confirm us in the opinion that he is quite unfit to be trusted in any position where loyalty to his government, a just regard for the feelings of others, and an abnegation of self is required. We believe he will live long enough to regret the slanderous utterances he made on that occasion.

It only remains for us to impress upon you the great importance of the issues which are presented to you, and to urge that you will organize throughout the entire country in harmony with the regular Republican organizations, and do all your power to re-elect General Grant Chief Executive of the government for four years more, and thereby complete the great work you began in 1861.

A. E. BURNSIDE, Chairman.

L. E. DUDLEY, Secretary.

A NEW SWINDLE.

Secret Order of Money Finders.

A new swindle has been unearthed at Meadville, the details of which are given by the Republican. A few weeks ago a man rented a box in the postoffice there, giving his name as C. B. Lord. He soon after mailed several thousand letters to parties in different parts of the States and Canada. About the same time Postmaster Derrickson received a letter from another party, in which were inclosed two printed cards, one of which gave the name and address of the swindler, and the other, which is a red card, purports to make the holder a member of the "Secret Order of Money Finders," and tells the bearer that on the receipt of five dollars, Mr. Lord or one of his agents will meet the new member at a place to be designated by the new party, time to be named by the swindler himself. The card also tells the bearer to fix the place near some railroad station, and adds the precaution that the less correspondence on the subject the better. When some fifty letters had accumulated, Lord called for his mail, but, in the postmaster's absence, the clerk refused to deliver the letters until he was identified. He said that was easily enough done, and left the office, but did not return. When Mr. Derrickson was informed of the matter, he secured the services of a police officer and caused the arrest of Lord, who was held in $200 bail for trial, giving his bondsman sufficient money to cover his bond in case he (Lord) should fail to appear at the time fixed. Lord then disappeared, and will probably never be seen there again, as his bail will be forfeited. The letters addressed to him, all of which, no doubt, contain money, will be sent to the dead letter office, to be thence returned to the poor fools who wrote them. It is thought Lord is operating in other cities and towns through western Pennsylvania and Ohio, and should be watched for by postmasters and police.

THE men in the National Asylum for disabled veteran soldiers at Dayton have formed political clubs recently. The Grant and Wilson club numbers over six hundred men; the Greeley club—well, nobody knows how many belong to it, as they won't show the roll. Greeleyism don't thrive in that kind of soil, though.

Campaign in Ohio.

Twenty Thousand People Greet Senator Wilson at Canton.

Daylight Procession Three Miles Long—Torchlight Demonstration at Night.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

CANTON, O., September 30, 1872.

The largest gathering Stark county has seen for thirty years met here to-day, to hear Senator Henry Wilson. It is estimated that between fifteen and twenty thousand were present on the fair grounds from Alliance, Massillon, Waynesburg, Canal Dover, Fulton and all the towns in the county. A procession about three miles in length was formed, in which were represented the manufacturing establishments and different trades of Massillon and Canton. Threshing machines, reapers and mowers in motion, and a section of a wrought-iron bridge were carried in the procession, which paraded the principal streets and marched out to the fair grounds, where the assembled multitude listened to the Republican candidate for Vice President for about two hours with close attention, and frequently showed their approval of the sentiments expressed by enthusiastic cheering. In the evening the Grant clubs of the city made a large torchlight procession. The city was brilliantly illuminated, and speeches were made in front of the court house by Gen. Ed. S. Meyer and several other gentlemen.

Senator Wilson at Massillon, Ohio.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

MASSILLON, O., September 30, 1872.

Senator Wilson spoke this evening in the Opera House to a large and enthusiastic audience. It was his second speech made in this State during the present campaign, and was a complete success. He leaves for Cleveland in the morning.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, September 30, 1872.

FLIGHT OF BALLOT-BOX STUFFERS.

It is stated that Alderman Dunn, Pat. Keenan and ex-Auditor James O'Brien, of the Sixth ward, Brooklyn, fled last night, consequent upon the publication of affidavits of Thomas McGill proving them to have stuffed the ballot boxes of that ward at the last election, and then perjuring themselves by swearing to statements which falsely convicted M. J. Weldon of their crime.

ARRESTED FOR MURDER.

Charles Schneider was arrested to-day on suspicion of having murdered Patrick Quinn, found near the navy yard, in Brooklyn, yesterday, with his skull crushed in.

STATE POLITICS.

The registering officer at Titusville has been derelict in his duty, and there is a great deal of complaint. Martin Morrisey, boiler maker, sent this note to the Herald: "I have lived here six years, and I don't like to lose my vote. I waited a good while for Mr. Coombs last night, and I must lose a half day's work now to get registered, which is very hard, but I would lose a summer's work rather than lose a vote for Hartranft and the Republican ticket."

George H. Rowland has been nominated for State Senator by the Democrats of Luzerne, Monroe and Pike counties.

M. E. Jackson, Esq., a life-long Democrat, of Berwick, Columbia county, in reply to a letter from a number of party friends, asking for his assistance to the national campaign, wrote a reply in which he used the following language: "Under no circumstances could I be so inconsistent to all my former principles of political faith as to support Horace Greeley. Like Esau of old, his history, politically, morally and socially, has been as 'unstable as water.' Gen. Grant's administration, although not meeting my views in some particulars, has been one of financial prosperity, and marked by a fair degree of statesmanship. I, therefore, think it wise to retain him in power, rather than fly to ills that we know not of.'" Mr. Jackson has also consented to deliver an address to his fellow-townsmen to-morrow evening in support of his position.

The Executive Committee of the Straight-out Democrats of Pennsylvania have called a State Convention at Harrisburg, on Wednesday, October 16, to place in the field an electoral ticket.

The Democratic Congressional Convention for Lehigh and Montgomery counties met again at Norristown on Monday, but there was no greater harmony than in Saturday's session at Allentown. The Lehigh delegates held out against the renomination of Dr. Acker, while the Montgomery county men as persistently insisted upon it. The Lehigh party finally withdrew, and Montgomery informally declared Acker the nominee. Now let the Republicans of these counties give a united support to their nominee, and he will be elected by a respectable majority.

Stanley Woodward, of Luzerne county, has been nominated for Congress by the Democrats of the Twelfth district.

The Republican Senatorial conferees of Bedford, Blair, Fulton and Somerset counties have nominated Col. John A. Lemon, of Hollidaysburg, for State Senator.

Gen. Blair, a leading Democrat of Center county, will support General Hartranft for Governor. Gen. Blair was an officer under Gen. Hartranft during the war, and knows him personally.

The Republican Senatorial conferees for the district composed of Columbia, Lycoming, Montour, and Sullivan counties, met in Williamsport on Thursday, and nominated John Ransom, of Lycoming, for Senator.

Edmund C. Evans, chairman of the Pennsylvania delegation to the Louisville convention, has issued an address to the Democracy of Montgomery county, calling upon them to repudiate Greeley and mongrelism.

Hon. S. F. Wilson, of Wellsboro, has been unanimously nominated by the Republicans for Additional Law Judge of the Fourth Judicial district.

The Republicans of the Seventeenth Congressional district have nominated Dr. Strawbridge, of Danville, to succeed Hon. Ulysses Mercur. The nomination is an excellent one, and will command the full vote of the party. B. K. Rhodes, the Democratic nominee, is a resident of Danville, also.

Miles Zentmeyer, of Huntingdon county, a delegate to the Democratic Convention, has come out in a strong letter denouncing R. M. Speer for his trickery in cheating the Democracy. He says that Mr. Speer has undertaken to run the whole machine in his own interest, and threatens everybody who will not follow him with his vengeance.

The Republican conferees of McKean and Potter counties met at Coudersport on the 17th inst., and unanimously nominated Hon. C. S. Jones for Assembly.

Dr. G. F. Horton, of Bedford, and W. J. Turrell, of Susquehanna, have been nominated for delegates to the Constitutional Convention by the Republicans of the Senatorial district, composed of the counties of Bedford, Susquehanna, Wayne and Wyoming.

The conferees of the Senatorial district, composed of the counties of Cameron, McKean, Potter and Tioga, met at Coudersport on the 17th of September, and nominated J. B. Niles, of Tioga, and Hon. J. S. Mann, of Potter, for State Senators.

The Titusville Herald estimates that the Republican State and county tickets will have from 1,000 to 1,200 majority in Crawford county. The "Liberal" element in that county is rapidly "vanishing into air," the Herald says.

The Allentown Chronicle says: "Wm. H. White of Montgomery county, was nominated for Congress, (by the Democrats,) on Monday, on the forty-sixth ballot. Acker was incompetent, but his character is pure compared with Wittie's. We regret that such a nomination has been made, and we hope, barely hope, that some means may be placed in the power of the people of this district to save us from the disgrace of electing such a Congressman." As Acker was also nominated, in a manner, and will run, the Republicans can elect their Congressman, if they try.

The Republican Conferences, representing Lehigh and Montgomery counties, met in Allentown on Wednesday, and nominated James S. Biery, Esq., of Lehigh, for Congress.

A WOMAN named Avrey Doughten died in New Castle county, Del., a few years ago, leaving a will in which bequests were made to certain charitable institutions, and one of $2,000 to the trustees or managers of the Philadelphia water-works. The next of kin and heirs of the deceased lady have recently filed a bill in equity to have the amount of this latter bequest, among others, paid over to them, on the ground that there are not in existence such persons or institutions as are named in the will. The city of Philadelphia claims that the money belongs to the corporation, and will contest the claims of the heirs in the courts of Delaware.

AN old colored woman, known as "Aunt Margaret," died in Philadelphia on the 17th inst., aged one hundred and sixteen years. She was born in Philadelphia, and sold as a slave to a Southern planter, but obtained her freedom some years after on returning to that city. For fifteen years she had never left the room in which she died, situated in the third story of a house on Sergeant street. She obtained her reading matter by lowering a basket from the window, in which the carriers put the morning newspapers. She was supplied with provisions in the same way. She retained her faculties almost unimpaired to the time of her decease.

THE Cardiff, Wales, Weekly Mail describes the Glamorgan, a steamship just launched at Renfrew, for the South Wales Atlantic Steamship Company, a line established between Cardiff and New York. The voyages will be made at first every six weeks, until the completion of the second steamer, the Carmarthen, and thereafter every three weeks. The vessels will be run in connection with the Pennsylvania Railroad. It will no doubt prove successful, as it will carry swarms of emigrants from South Wales, as well as iron, tin plates, copper, etc., returning with full cargoes of grain, provisions, etc., from our fertile fields.

THE Atlantic for October contains an able paper on the Presidential canvass, setting forth clearly the issues involved and the merits of the two candidates. It concludes by declaring unequivocally in favor of General Grant and against Mr. Greeley. It says that with General Grant "there will be that public confidence which is requisite to the expanded trade and credit of civilization, and which is a vital need in our financial, currency and banking situation; and the country will have as much currency reform, tariff reform, and civil service reform as Congress and popular opinion support."

THE last cod-fishing vessel of the Provincetown fleet out on the spring trip recently returned from the grand banks. The Yarmouth Register says that not a man or a vessel has been lost during the entire season. The average catch has been good, and the size and quality of the fish are excellent, unusual care having been taken in the dressing, cleaning and salting on board, and much pains have evidently been bestowed upon washing most of the fares landed. The reduction of the fleet from seventy-seven sail last year to fifty-three sail this year produces a corresponding reduction in the catch, there being brought in last year about 90,000 quintals to little more than 60,000 quintals this season.

Judge Kelley Next Denies.

Representative Kelley, of Philadelphia, publishes to-day a full and complete denial of the Credit Mobilier story affecting himself. His letter, which is dated Laramie, Wyoming Territory, first explains the delay in meeting the slander, Judge Kelley stating that the story was so preposterous that at first he did not deem it worthy of notice and let it pass, as he had so many other slanders from which time and events had vindicated him. The Chicago Tribune's version of the matter, and the interview of its correspondent with McComb, have, however, so far modified the original statement that Judge Kelley says he is justified in noticing their allegations. This he does as follows: "Let who may be responsible for the story, it is false. I have never owned a share of stock in the Credit Mobilier of America, nor have any members of my family, either directly or by intervention of trustees or agent. Nor do I, nor have I ever owned a share of stock of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, nor is there any held by any body for my use or that of any member of my family, or of my heirs and assigns. Nor, again, have I or they ever owned a Pacific Railroad bond, except one $1,000 income bond, which was purchased for me in open market some months since by my counsel at my request, with funds he had collected for me. I had hoped to retain this ten per cent. bond in payment long enough to enable me to collect at least one year's interest on it, but was some time since constrained to request my counsel to sell it, which would not have been necessary had there been any truth in that portion of Mr. McComb's testimony which refers to me."

The Baltimore Failures.

The creditors of Kirkland, Chase & Co., the most important of the Baltimore business houses which recently failed, met on Saturday, and after a protracted discussion as to the best mode of proceeding for the recovery of what may be realized, were able only to agree that if the regular course of bankruptcy was decided on, other suspended houses should be included, so that only one committee of creditors and one receiver should be necessary. The later investigations of the condition of the broken firms show a very bad state of affairs and a large excess of liabilities over assets. Kirkland, Chase & Co.'s debts already appear to exceed $3,500,000, while their assets are not over $1,900,000. It is hoped, however, that extricated from their connection with other houses which have failed, they will bring their resources within $500,000 of their obligations. Lazear Bros. have offered eighty-five cents on the dollar, and William D. Shultz & Co. fifty.

District Laws Codified.

The commission to codify the laws of this District have completed their work. The code in force was found to be made up of one hundred and fifty English statutes, about two hundred old Maryland laws, and a much larger number of Congressional statutes and ordinances of the cities of Georgetown and Washington. Among the important new matter introduced is the abolition of dower and courtesy, in place of which the commission recommend giving the widow or widower a life estate in one-third of all the real property owned by the deceased partner, and throughout the new code an attempt has been made to give women the same rights as men in regard to property. The commission also recommended a law forbidding any Life Insurance company from doing business in the District unless it maintains a deposit of $50,000 with the treasurer of the District.

Personal.

Commissioner Walker, of Indian Affairs, has been ill for a day or two, but is now recovering.

Northern Pacific Inspection.

The commission to examine the Northern Pacific railroad and telegraph line will begin their work as soon as practicable after next week's election. They will rendezvous at St. Paul, and proceed thence to end of the track, which is expected to reach Missouri river by the first of November.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 30, 1872.

REPEAL OF STAMP DUTY.

The stamp duty upon all documents, except bank checks, drafts or orders, expires to-day, in accordance with the recent act of Congress. Hereafter no stamps will be required on any legal documents whatever, no paper being subject to stamp duty except bank checks, drafts or orders, as above mentioned. No stamps are required on foreign bills of exchange.

COLORED MEN AND THE PRESIDENT.

A committee of the Colored Men's Convention of New England, which met in Faneuil Hall, Boston, on the 5th inst., called on the President to-day and presented a letter from their convention. The committee consisted of Lewis Hayden, George Raffin and Charles E. Tindall. The letter was delivered by Mr. Raffin, who made a few remarks. The President in reply expressed gratification that his efforts to secure protection to life and property to all classes throughout the country had been so fully appreciated, and thanked the committee for the kind manner in which they had alluded to his action in regard to their race.

TAX ON MALT LIQUORS.

The Acting Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that wholesale and retail liquor dealers may continue to sell malt liquors under their special tax receipts as such without being assessed as malt liquor dealer, and that collections of taxes assessed contrary to that construction shall be suspended until the question can be brought before Congress. Persons who sell only malt liquors are liable only to special taxes, $20 or $50, according as they are wholesale or retail dealers in malt liquors.

PRECAUTION AGAINST CATTLE DISEASE.

The Collectors of Customs at the principal ports have been directed by the Treasury Department to suspend the importation of neat cattle and hides coming from infected districts of Europe, unless accompanied by a consular certificate showing that they are free from disease.

The Future of Music.

Rubinstein, the great pianist, has not escaped the machinations of the malignant interviewer. In a talk with a New York reporter, last week, the virtuoso gave his views pretty freely on matters musical. As to the "music of the future" he said: "I do not think it will take the direction which Wagner wants it to take. Wagner is a humbug, a cheat. Humbug is now in fashion, and it obtains recognition in music as well as it does in religion, art, politics, science, business, society. They are all governed by humbug. No, it's not humbug, it's cheating—and Wagner has cheated many into the belief that he is the composer, the genius of the age. He has written some very good things, but nothing that is worth making such a noise about. I think that music as an art is on the decline. In a generation or two we shall have no classical music worth speaking of. The popularizing and democratic tendency of music will kill that which is grand and noble in music, and the divine art—you will live to see it—will pass into the hands of the organ grinder. Street music—that is the music of the future. They will have in thirty or forty years beer gardens where Beethoven's symphonies and Handel's oratorios will be executed before a wine-drinking and cigar-smoking audience." He said he thought the art, as the art of the few, would die out. "There are no composers now, and there will soon be no virtuosi. The opera will be a thing of the past, because there is nobody to compose new operas, and we cannot hear the same old operas forever. And then—there is the worst of it—there are no singers—[with a terrible emphasis]—there are no singers." Nilsson, Patti and Tietjens, he said, were pretty singers, but they are not like Pasta, or Malibran, or Grisi. "It is very charming, but it is not that divine art which makes a tremor come over you as if cold water had been poured over you." He holds the opinion that women, however well educated, have done nothing, and can do nothing, remarkable in music.

Alleged Poisoning of Two Girls by Their Mother.

London county, Virginia, is again the scene of great excitement over an alleged terrible poisoning case. Mrs. Eliza Caton, a widow lady, had two daughters, aged respectively twenty-one and eighteen years. The eldest of these was taken sick some three weeks ago, but was apparently improving until the 19th inst., when she was attacked more violently than ever. In the meantime her younger sister was taken very ill, and she labored very much under the same symptoms that were characteristic of her sister's illness. A doctor was immediately dispatched for by one of Mrs. Caton's neighbors, who happened to be present at the time. In due time Dr. Pough, who was their family physician, arrived, entered the young Miss Caton's room, and after examining her condition, pronounced her illness to be typhoid fever, and prescribed accordingly. He then started for the room of the elder Miss Caton, but on arriving at the door was positively refused an admittance by the mother, who stood at the door and stated that there was nothing the matter with the oldest daughter, and that she did not desire him to see her. That same night the younger daughter was taken much worse, and died before medical aid could be procured. The next morning the other daughter grew much worse, swelling in the region of the abdomen to an enormous size, and suffering the most acute agony. Still no physician was permitted to see her. In this condition she remained until midday, when she, too, expired in the presence of no one but her mother, and with no other living soul present to whom she might make a death-bed statement. Suspicion was aroused, and the neighbors finally came to believe that the young ladies died from poison administered by the hand of the mother. Various rumors are afloat concerning the cause. Among others, it is said that the eldest daughter was in a critical condition, and it is thought that, in order to conceal the shame and disgrace which would necessarily fall upon the family provided a knowledge of this fact were brought to light, she resorted to this terrible and heartless mode of preserving the integrity and honor of her name. What her motive could have been in poisoning the other daughter is left entirely in a shroud of mystery.

The body of the eldest daughter has been exhumed and sent to a chemist for examination. The mother has not yet been arrested.

Buckalew's Aristocratic Tastes.

[From the Pottsville Miners' Journal.]

In 1846, two young mechanics were sent from this county to Bloomsburg to put up some machinery for Colonel Joseph Paxton, at the Irondale Furnaces, just north of the town, in Columbia county. They engaged board with Charles Deobler, the proprietor of the American House. Everything was all satisfactory. After dinner they were told the road to Irondale, and after their return Mr. Deobler desired to see the young men and privately informed them that he would lose more by taking them than he would by requesting them to leave. The young men demanded to know the cause. After some hesitation on the part of the proprietor, Mr. Deobler, he handed them a protest signed by some fifteen to seventeen gentlemen, which said in plain terms to Mr. Deobler that if he (Deobler) took those mechanics, they, the gentlemen boarders, would leave his hotel. The signers, were lawyers, doctors, clerks, etc., and the first name upon the protest was that of the Democratic candidate for Governor, the Hon. Charles R. Buckalew.

The names of those mechanics, who are prominent, influential and respected citizens of this county, are in our possession.

How can any mechanic or workingman vote for such a cold, unsympathizing aristocrat as Charles R. Buckalew?

A PAPYRUS more than three thousand years old has been found in an ancient Egyptian tomb. The papyrus, which is one hundred and twenty feet long by eighteen inches wide, contains an address to his people by Rameses III. (the Rampensit of Herodotus) on the great events in the reigns of himself, his father and his grandfather. The King particularly speaks of his restoration of the ancient Egyptian religion and re-erection of the temples. The King's address has been translated by Dr. Essenloher, of Leipzig, and as it sheds a great amount of light on the study of the Mosaic law and religion, it will doubtless be extensively published.

The Disastrous Failure

Of the Andes Insurance Company, of Cincinnati, is a powerful argument in favor of our home companies, which afford greater security than agency ones, for the reason that their business is of such a character that they can at all times keep it under their control. It has proven that large capital does not necessarily guarantee greater security than moderate means. The affairs of our home companies are generally managed with prudence, while those of agency companies are less likely to be so conducted. While the Chicago fire caused the collapse of a great number of companies in different portions of the Union, our home companies met with very little loss. From all this we infer that to owners of property hereabouts our local companies offer superior inducements to any others. Among them we know of no one that we can more sincerely recommend than the National, of Allegheny. Office over the Second National Bank, corner of Federal street and the Diamond. James E. Stevenson, Secretary.

Suburban Homes.

As will be seen by an advertisement which appears under the head of auction sales on our fourth page, Linden Grove, Oakland, has been subdivided into lots, varying in size from one half an acre upward, which are offered for sale by the Linden Land Company. Of the great desirability of these lots for suburban residences much might be said. They are beautifully and eligibly located, present every variety of surface and beautiful scenery, are surrounded by fine residences and are readily reached by the Oakland passenger cars, or a short drive on Fifth avenue. They have the advantages of city water and gas, which are certainly very important considerations. These lots will be sold at low prices and easy payments. The office of the company is at the corner of Wilmot and Ward street, on the property, where parties desiring to examine the property will be afforded the requisite facilities. Further particulars can be learned from Hill Burgwin, Esq., No. 143 Fourth avenue.

WHO GOT YERKES'S PARDON?

Another Revelation in the Plot Against Hartranft.

It has been charged that the pardon of YERKES was an outrage upon the people of the whole State, and that it was purchased by a promise on his part to deny the signatures which it has since been proved were forged by the scoundrel PAINE. A single word will suffice to throttle this lie. Among the signatures to the petition for his pardon are to be found the names of Colonel ALEXANDER K. McCLURE, Chairman of the Liberal State Committee, and General Manager of the BUCKALEW campaign; of W. W. IRWIN, ex-State Treasurer, upon the same political side; and of numerous other prominent anti-HARTRANFT men in different parts of the State, some of whom based their prayer for the release of YERKES on the grounds of doubt whether he was guilty of any legal offense, and others on that of a firm conviction of his innocence. What have the Philadelphia Press, the Pittsburgh Post, and other papers of the same class, to say now?

IF we can elect BUCKALEW, says the New York World, GRANT will be beaten. On the number of Republicans that can be kept from supporting HARTRANFT depend BUCKALEW'S chances, said HIESTER CLYMER, in a recent speech. If we can keep down Allegheny to a low figure in October, says Gen. MOORHEAD, GREELEY will have clear sailing. He, MOORHEAD, has set himself up to do the work, and claims that he has the business classes at his back. Let us see how this is.

A LETTER to a New York paper counts largely on the influence of Gen. MOORHEAD to cut down the Republican majority next week in Allegheny. "He wields a powerful influence," says the writer, "and the business circles to which he belongs seem not disposed to oppose him." It is believed that this boast is not well founded, and that the voting will prove it. Business men, in former times, have stood by Gen. MOORHEAD. He having turned his back on them, on his principles and party, it remains to be seen whether he carries everybody in his pocket.

"DOCTOR" PAINE suddenly left the city yesterday, on the exposure of the forgeries which he came here to peddle, in the hope of deluding the public into the belief that General HARTRANFT is not an honest man. The pet of the Buckalewites found it would be too hot for him if he remained an hour longer, and he "went west." He was quite right. The public indignation and the laws would have made his visit uncomfortable for him had he prolonged it. We give the Buckalewites joy for their witness and the outcome of their joint game.

WHEN Bogus PAINE came to Pittsburgh with his budget of forgeries against HARTRANFT, it was given out that he would remain till the election, and boasts were made how he was going to drive people to the wall. Yesterday he "put out" as though he had heard some bad news, and the Buckalewites, by whom he was employed, all at once gave signs of deep disgust and a general condition not likely to be improved by the further fact that McCLURE, their general manager, was among the foremost in procuring the pardon of YERKES. And the pieces lie scattered all around!

ONE thing can be predicted for a certainty: the filling of the air with fresh calumnies, now that the old ones have been exploded. But the hour has passed when sensation reports will have the slightest effect. Probably in no previous canvass has there been anything that will compare with the stupendous falsehoods which have been hurled against Gen. HARTRANFT, and never were calumnies more successfully met. Missiles of this description have become harmless. The people have come to understand them, and the Republicans need pay no heed to them hereafter in whatever form or from whatever quarter they come.

IN the present canvass one fact stands out more conspicuously than any other, to wit: A vote for BUCKALEW is a vote for GREELEY, not in Pennsylvania alone, but in half a dozen other States, where the influence of the result will be immediately felt. It is precisely this that nerves the opposition—that has determined them to break down General HARTRANFT at all hazards, and carry Pennsylvania against him at whatever cost. If there is a Republican who feels like helping GREELEY he should by all means go for BUCKALEW. But no voter who desires to see GRANT elected can, without violence to principle, withhold his support for HARTRANFT.

AN important matter for our business men to remember is, that the new law concerning stamp taxes goes into operation to-day. No stamps will hereafter be required on any promissory notes, time drafts, bonds, certificates, contracts, custom house entries, or any other document named in schedule B of the old law, with the exception of the tax of two cents on bank checks, drafts or orders. This tax, the Treasury Department decides, extends to inland bills and foreign bills, if paid at sight or on demand, and to all orders at sight on private individuals for any sum over ten dollars. The changes effected by the new law are comprehensive and important, and should be carefully borne in mind.

SINCE it was McCLURE, as much as any one, that got YERKES pardoned, we wait for the next shift of the enemies of HARTRANFT. Driven to the wall at all points, with PAINE fleeing from the State under the exposure of his forgeries, and the public indignation raised to the highest pitch against them, it would seem that they must have reached the end of the miserable business of defaming General HARTRANFT. What new forgeries they will invent, what cards they will next play, no one can guess. McCLURE is fertile and desperate; the necessities of the Buckalewites are great; and it is safe to expect them to address themselves to the labor of defamation in some form or other.

FROM this time forward energy and close work will pervade the entire Republican line from one end of the State to the other. Even if the wicked plot against General HARTRANFT had not been providentially exposed, it is likely that when the actual tug of battle came, most of those who had became prejudiced against him through the atrocious slanders which now recoil on their authors' heads, would have sunk self and done service for the noble Republican cause. But now that, after having been persecuted almost beyond parallel, he has been vindicated to the uttermost degree, there will be such a splendid concentration of effort in his behalf as has hardly ever before been witnessed in any political campaign. The Republicans of Pennsylvania do not need to be told how to deal with deserters who seek to poison the chosen leaders of the great party of humanity and progress, in order that its ranks may be disrupted and the country delivered as a prey to the enemy. This is the fighting year, and Pennsylvania holds the key to the national position, and the traitors that were among us are detected. Now, then, let every man's arm be doubly nerved for striking home.

NO SET of men were ever thrown into such rage as were the Buckalewites by the pardon of YERKES. It spoiled their game in an hour. The lies which constituted their entire stock and trade were spoiled at once. They relied on playing the game to the last. They had lithographed their lies and scattered them broadcast, and sent out the notorious PAINE to swear to them. In an instant they are proved to be forgeries, with not a word of truth in them. Men thus exposed and defeated have a right to be mad, and rave and threaten and do almost anything. They relied for a certainty in making enough voters believe the forgeries to defeat HARTRANFT. If there had been a bargain that YERKES, as the price of liberty, should exculpate HARTRANFT by making the truth known and freeing him from the grievous wrong sought to be perpetrated by his enemies, the pardoning of him would have been a perfectly justifiable and meritorious act. But such was not the case; the pardon was issued on its merits, as has been shown. As a matter of course supporters of the cause that depended for success on belief in the forgeries that have been exposed will say that such a bargain did exist—and if necessary will produce the documents to prove it. PAINE, no doubt, stands ready to furnish them.

WHY IT HOWLS!

A week ago—on the 23d of September, to be exact—the Pittsburgh Post considered YERKES to be an "unfortunate gentleman," whom neither General HARTRANFT nor his friends could get "to deny facts which he stated under oath." Yesterday that paper denounced him as a "convicted thief, who had just been liberated by a confederate in crime from the penitentiary." A week ago he was, according to the Post and its Confederate conspirators, kept immured in a prison cell in order to prevent him from opening his mouth—to-day, according to the same paper, he is a scoundrelly perjurer. This wonderful change of opinion and sentiment has been, it should be remembered, brought about because YERKES has been pardoned—an act which it maintained dared not be performed—and because he has made a revelation vindicating General HARTRANFT from every charge brought against him—which, so long as YERKES could not make himself heard, it declared he would, under no circumstances do; and because his statements, with the piled evidence by which they are fortified and sustained, brands the only witness of the Post and its confederates as a wretch so base that the most damning terms in the vocabulary, matched with his foulness, would become words of praise. Is it any wonder that the Post howls and writhes with PAINE?

HARTRANFT AND THE GERMANS.

W. D. MOORE, chairman of the Democratic County Executive Committee, writes to prominent Germans calling on them to furnish proofs that they have seen Hartranft drink. The persons addressed, among whom were some Democrats, flung the note with contempt into a corner. This is verily the lowest and most despicable mode of electioneering of which we have ever heard, and stamps the man who resorts to such miserable means, as a contemptible fellow to whom nothing seems too mean to gain his object. We leave it to the sentiment of all honorable minded men whether such a man, wherever he may be met with, does not deserve to be treated with utter contempt.

The foregoing extract is translated from the Freiheit's Freund of Monday. Though not in the habit of quoting personal remarks from other newspapers, the occasion seems to warrant this slight departure from a good rule. In the entire annals of American election contests we may safely venture to say that nothing can be found quite equal in baseness to the calumnies of which General HARTRANFT has been made the object in connection with his visit to Pittsburgh. There was absolutely no impropriety in the General's proceedings here. Having been invited to visit the German quarters of the city with the view of becoming acquainted with leading members of our German community, he could not with decency have refused the invitation, and having accepted it, he could not have made the visit under better auspices than in the company of the gentlemen who offered themselves as his escort. They are well known in Pittsburgh and Allegheny, and it is safe to say that more intelligent and honorable gentlemen are not to be found in this community—all the nationalities of our motley population included. To Americans, not befooled by partisan animosity, the well established character of his escort is sufficient evidence that General HARTRANFT was guilty of no one of the improprieties and absurdities laid to his charge. So far as these cities are concerned, there was really no need for them to say a word in vindication of the person assailed; but they having thought it worth while formally to contradict the slanders, the Freiheit's Freund expresses the mere truth when it says that their simple word is to the public more than worth a "bushel of affidavits" of the kind trumped up for the injury of them and their distinguished guest.

It seems a very small business, and yet it may be worth while to refer to one or two specimens of the quibbling to which this contemptible affair has given rise. It is not pretended that Gen. HARTRANFT thinks it wrong or inexpedient to take a glass of beer or wine, or that on the excursion in controversy he exemplified what some people think the virtue of total abstinence. But it is completely established that, in courteous recognition of those who successively proposed to drink his health, he merely tasted the drinks used for the purpose. In other words, his conduct was in perfect accord with his principles and practice as these are well known to his life-long friends and acquaintance,—he exemplified the virtue of rational temperance.

A local German paper which advocates GREELEY and reform (?) professes to think that an insult was offered to the German character by General HARTRANFT in acting as if the beer-glass were the magnet by which German votes were to be drawn. But it should reflect that the General went to such places only as he was invited to visit, and also that his object being to become acquainted with Germans, or rather to give Germans an opportunity of becoming acquainted with him, it was the most natural thing in the world for his conductors to take him to the places of common German resort. It is, we confess, rather surprising to see a paper which claims to be a German organ trying to make political capital out of a clamor which means little or rather nothing except as it appeals to the prejudices with which certain German customs are regarded by a worthy and respectable class of the native American public.

THE HISTORY OF IT.

Much as GREELEY'S nomination at Cincinnati took the nation by surprise, it was not only no surprise to GREELEY himself, but the realized consummation of long years of laborious scheming and intrigue. His hope of becoming President of the United States has long been generally known, and was a common subject of jest and mocking allusion in newspapers and in conversation, as most readers may remember, up until his actual selection as their candidate, first by the Liberals and then by the Democrats, divested the subject of its comical aspect, and made it too serious for joking about—at least among people able to comprehend the calamity of his election. From a history of his nomination in a late St. Louis paper, it appears that in 1868 it was well known to certain "people inside politics" that GREELEY and his Tribune were ready to support CHASE, in case he received the nomination of the Democratic party. The Tribune editor supported GRANT only because he could not have anything to do with SEYMOUR. In 1870, at a private caucus of Republican leaders, it was resolved to renominate GRANT, and in order to reconcile GREELEY to the measure he was to be placed on the same ticket as Republican candidate for Vice President. COLFAX agreed to make way for him, and at that time wrote his letter declining a renomination. With this arrangement GREELEY was made fully acquainted; in fact, he was present at the caucus, and concurred in what was done, and in accordance with the plan then and there devised he soon afterward visited the West, and in the spring of 1871 made his well remembered journey to Texas and through the South. While on this tour he was so deeply impressed with the signs of his own popularity, that, on his return, he told his friends that he felt himself strong enough to take the first instead of the second place on the ticket, and further declared his purpose to be a candidate for the Presidency in 1872.

As there is no reason to doubt the general truth of this statement, it sheds a brilliant light upon the general character of the man, as well as upon the meaning of some of his acts and utterances during the last two years. While he expected to run on the same ticket with GRANT, he was ready to defend the entire policy and all the acts of the present administration. When he discovered his own popularity in the South—a popularity caused by the remembrance of his advocacy of the right of secession, by his kindness to JEFFERSON DAVIS, and by the knowledge of his wavering, uncertain character—he began to tack with the view of increasing the number of his Southern friends. At present he has carried his spirit of conciliation so far as to admit that he was probably wrong in denouncing slavery. It would, however, be a mistake to suppose that GREELEY is quite as popular in the South as he supposes himself to be, as great numbers of the Southern whites dread the effects of reaction as much as the people of the North dread them, and many of the same class are just as little drawn toward a Presidential candidate by the demagogic arts which find favor with Mr. GREELEY.

WILL THEY BE JUST?

It has all along been maintained by the Philadelphia Press, and those who have followed its lead, that their opposition to General HARTRANFT was based solely upon principle, and contained no element of personal resentment or hatred, whatever. If this has really been the case, they will now come up to the support of General HARTRANFT with even more earnestness than they have hitherto withstood him. The most sagacious and clear-sighted men are liable at times to be mistaken—to have their vision distorted, their judgment warped, and to be deluded into the persecution of innocent persons, under the impression that they are helping to bring offenders to justice. And for all such there is extenuation, until the conspirators, who have hoodwinked their better natures, themselves stand exposed and unmasked. But not a moment longer. If their hostility is continued after the ground on which it was professedly based has been swept from beneath their feet, they become partners and principals in the original crime. From this time forward not the slightest shadow of excuse exists for any Republican who persists in opposing the election of General HARTRANFT. Heretofore, they may have erred through ignorance. Hereafter, they will sin against light and knowledge. The comprehensive and convincing statement of YERKES brushes away at one stroke the whole intricate net-work of lies framed to deceive the honest-dealing people of the State. General HARTRANFT comes out of the terrible ordeal through which the malice of his enemies has compelled him to pass, not only unscathed by so much as the singing of a hair, or the faintest smell of fire about his garments, but with his integrity shining all the more lustrously for the crucial test to which it has been subjected. We have done what we could to counteract the effects of past hostility. It now rests with the enemies of HARTRANFT to prove that they are not ashamed to make reparation for their own wrong-doing. There is but one way in which they can atone for their mistake, and that is by acknowledging it fearlessly and frankly, and by exerting themselves to the utmost in the service of the man whom they have so grievously, if unintentionally, misapprehended and maligned. Nothing less than this will satisfy the demands of justice, or of the people.

KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE!

KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE: that the whole conspiracy against General HARTRANFT hinged upon the purported genuineness of certain affidavits, alleged to have been made by CHARLES T. YERKES before Alderman DOUGHERTY, of Philadelphia, under date of December 23, 1871, with reference to the use of State funds by General HARTRANFT for speculative purposes.

KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE: that from the beginning of the campaign down until last Saturday, the GREELEY-BUCKALEW press openly and constantly charged that General HARTRANFT and his friends were exerting all their influence to prevent the pardon of YERKES, upon the express ground that, if he were liberated and rendered competent as a witness, his disclosures concerning General HARTRANFT'S alleged malfeasance in office and improper use of the public moneys, would inevitably prevent his election as Governor.

KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE: that the pardon of YERKES, which took place last Saturday, was issued at the urgent and combined solicitation, begun a number of months ago, of upward of seven thousand leading citizens of the State, representing all shades of political opinion and all classes of business occupations and pursuits, and that it was granted upon its merits.

KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE: that as soon as YERKES was released, one of the first uses to which he put his liberty was to procure the publication of an impartial statement, supported by corroborative proofs furnished by a number of the most solid and reputable business men of Philadelphia, completely vindicating General HARTRANFT from every charge, in every specification and count, that has ever been brought against him.

KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE: that this statement of YERKES, with these supporting proofs, show beyond the possibility of dispute that the author of the charges which have been made against General HARTRANFT—the notorious vender of bogus medical diplomas, "Doctor" PAINE—in concocting his accusations, resorted to forgery and theft.

KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE: that these forged affidavits have constituted the sole and single basis of the infamous attacks which have been made on General HARTRANFT'S integrity and honor.

KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE: that the same men and papers which, up until last Saturday, accused General HARTRANFT and his friends of keeping YERKES in prison in order to insure his silence, now turn round and declare that the statements of the latter in vindication of General HARTRANFT are not to be relied upon.

KEEP ALL THESE THINGS BEFORE THE PEOPLE. Bear them aloft as on a banner. Scatter them in every nook and corner of the State. Wherever the lie has found lodgment, let the truth penetrate and hunt it down. Wherever the slander has gone, let the triumphant vindication follow. If these things are done, promptly, energetically and well—and they can be so done during the present week—General HARTRANFT will be elected Governor of the State of Pennsylvania by a majority that will sound to his persecutors and traducers like the voice of doom.

DETRACTION WON'T WIN.

If, when General HARTRANFT and his gallant troops were hewing their way toward the memorable Antietam bridge—which they were instructed to carry at all hazards—some treacherous caitiff, whose dastard baseness was cloaked behind a garb of Union blue, should have crept stealthily up and plunged a dagger into his back, or tried to create a mutiny against him, under the pretense that he was not fit to be intrusted with the execution of so important a movement—what would have been the probable character of the answer rendered to the wretch? Yet this is exactly what has been attempted with General HARTRANFT and the Republican party of this State, during the campaign now about closing—with the single difference that the bridge is not held by the enemy, but by ourselves. Now, as then, the face of our leader is turned toward the foe. What brave man takes time to notice detractors when on his fidelity and vigilance the fate of a people may depend? Now, as then, the battle that is being fought out on the soil of Pennsylvania will determine the question whether the nation shall change front forward or to the rear. Here the parallel ends. There were no traitors at Antietam—for the men who have tried to deliver the State over to the Confederates during this campaign were not with HARTRANFT on that desperate and chivalrous day. Republicans of Pennsylvania! You have witnessed the foul stigma attempted to be put upon the standard bearer of your cause, and you have seen the utter and ignominious failure of the black and treasonable plot. With what majority do you propose to honor your lately imperiled but now rescued and vindicated leader?

McCLURE APPLIES FOR THE PARDON OF YERKES!

What will the Buckalewites do now? McCLURE, the Head Center, it turns out, is one of the signers of the YERKES petition for a pardon. And here we wish to make a guess, to wit: If there was a bargain in the case at all, it was by McCLURE, that YERKES should be pardoned in the expectation of establishing by him the truth of the bogus affidavits which PAINE has been peddling against HARTRANFT. How completely does this fact disprove the accusation that HARTRANFT'S friends bargained YERKES out! If there was such a bargain, then McCLURE must have been a party to it. Does anybody believe this? Thus does the last shadow of the last plank of the Buckalewites disappear. What next?

WORK IN DETAIL.

One week remains for completing the work of the canvass in detail. Republicans need not be instructed in their duty in this regard. No doubt every manner of means will be resorted to to distract their attention. Let them heed nothing but the work in hand, and go through with it to the end. The close work must be done, and done thoroughly, so that every Republican comes to the polls and votes. This should be the aim of all the labor, down to the closing of the polls.

GRAND PROCESSION TO-NIGHT.

A River of Fire on the North Side.

A grand torchlight procession of all Grant, Wilson and Hartranft clubs in Allegheny county, will be held to-night, in Allegheny city. This will be one of the finest demonstrations ever witnessed in our sister city, as it is expected that all the marching clubs in the two cities and surrounding boroughs and townships will participate. Every arrangement has been made for a full turn-out, and a magnificent display. There will be three corps and eight divisions—the first corps composed of clubs on the South Side, the second of clubs in Pittsburgh and between the rivers, and the third of clubs on the North Side. Turn out, Republicans, and swell the procession. Let the Confederate Democracy see what a torchlight procession is. Fall in, boys! Rally in your might. Let the ranks be full, and let your demonstration be such as shall do credit to yourselves and the glorious cause of Republicanism.

THE Havana correspondent of the Boston Traveller states that the revolution in the island of Cuba is a great deal stronger now than ever before. Spain has declared that no more troops can be sent to Cuba. The regular soldiers surviving are hors de combat, while the volunteers utterly refuse to go out to meet the insurgents, leaving them masters of the field. It is stated that the West will be invaded soon by the revolutionists, the object of the movement being to emancipate the negroes held as slaves by the Spaniards. The negroes of the Central and Eastern Departments are already free, and most of them in the ranks of the rebels, fighting for the preservation of their freedom and the independence of Cuba. The members of the Spanish Casino are largely engaged in the slave trade, and their aim is to hold out against the revolution until all their cargoes of slaves, now en route, are received and sold.

"ISN'T it about time now," says the Chicago Tribune, "for Chicago speakers and sensation journals to let up a little on the 'Era of Crime,' the 'Age of Blood,' the 'Scarlet Period,' and the 'Epoch of Diurnal Horror?' The city will get a bad reputation abroad from this persistent attempt of certain parties to win reputation at home. We are nowhere near needing a vigilance committee, and the gas companies will use all our lamp posts for the present." The idea of Chicago getting a bad reputation abroad is ridiculous.

YERGER, who brutally murdered Colonel Crane in Mississippi, a few years ago, has announced himself as an independent candidate for Congress in the Third Maryland district. His paper, the Baltimore Evening Journal, was sold by the sheriff the other day.

THE editor of a paper in the Pennsylvania lumber regions joyously announces that "this is court week. We are confident of this fact, because we have already taken in four dollars and a woodchuck skin." What in the world will he do with all that wealth?

SEVERAL of the railway companies are having arrested the mechanics and laborers living outside the city of Chicago, who have been in the habit of jumping on their trains and sponging a ride. Several were arrested on one train on Friday by policemen in citizen's dress.

CHARLESTOWN, a suburb of Boston, has a great number of cases of small-pox, which was impartially distributed among the people by a milk-man. Fumigation and a pest house are demanded.

GENERAL AND PARTICULAR.

It is said that the grape crop at Kelley's Island this season will fall short of that of 1871 nearly one-half. The defective foliage in nearly all of the vineyards gives great reason to apprehend that grapes will ripen poorly and thus be deficient in saccharine matter.

The old-fashioned high Spanish comb is about to resume its place in my lady's hair—or at least in the hair she wears.

The present season is said to be one of the most sickly ever known in the Northwest. In some localities almost every person, old or young, has or has had a fever of some kind.

The engineers of the Northern Pacific Railroad have examined the curious mounds on the prairie between Monticello and Olympia, in Washington Territory, and found relics of an unknown race.

An unfortunate girl in Madison, Wisconsin, suddenly lost her reason, while in apparently good health, recently, and with it her knowledge of the English language. At the same time, it is said, she miraculously acquired command of the German, though she had never learned it or lived where it had been spoken.

The tedium of railroad travel in New York is relieved by militiamen who get drunk and carve each other into collops. The last excursion resulted in two corpses and thirty cases for hospital.

The members of the New Orleans bar have inaugurated a movement for purifying the bench, by making independent nominations of Judges.

Boston's oldest and most noted coffee saloon—Haven's coffee rooms on School street—which was established in 1837, has just been closed, after having furnished for thirty-five years the best coffee in the city. The old-fashioned and low-studded rooms of the resort have been the rendezvous of thousands of celebrities during the last generation.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that certificates of naturalization, whether issued by State or Federal courts, do not require to be stamped. This opinion is an important one at a time when the manufacture of citizens is so prominent an industry.

Lord Walsingham killed with his own gun eight hundred and forty-two head of grouse in one day, recently, and then went waltzing home.

The uniforms of the Lafayette, Indiana, police force have worn out, and the citizens propose to give a grand ball, the proceeds to be devoted to the replenishment of the wardrobes of the guardians of the public peace.

The general superintendent of the Michigan Central railroad has forbid the sale of whisky, ale, beer or other intoxicating liquors along the line of that road in any of the eating-houses attached to the stations. This action was induced by the frequency with which accidents and mishaps occurred through the use of intoxicating liquors.

The importation of cloth into Japan from Europe, and particularly from Germany, has increased to an enormous extent within a few years. The German government has taken official notice of this fact. The Japanese greatly prefer gray color, and German manufacturers and exporters are advised by their government to send cloth to Japan of the same quality and at the same prices as that furnished from England and France.

Two vestrymen of a fashionable church in New York have a desperate quarrel on hand because one of them recently hired two burnt-cork artists to sing in the choir, and the other don't want and won't have their music.

Among the oldest relics at the Berks county fair last week were a lady's belt three hundred years old, which served for four weddings; a dark glass bottle two hundred and sixty years old; a brass tea kettle two hundred years old, and a German copy of the New Testament three hundred and forty-five years old.

A French chemist claims to have made an important discovery. He adds some secret ingredient to powder, and doubles its projectile force. By another secret preparation he makes a pistol, rifle or cannon carry from two to ten times the ordinary distance.

A New York man who gets his living by renting out barrel-organs to cripples, etc., complains that the machines filled with lively tunes do not make any money, and that mournful airs are the only ones that pay during these fall days.

The sponge trade off the Gulf coast of Florida is rapidly assuming large proportions. Twenty-eight vessels have lately been engaged in the business, and are reported as having been very successful. Those sponge banks will be made a source of revenue to the State one of these days.

Apropos of the proposed celebration of the anniversary of the Chicago fire, on October 9, the Tribune inquires very pertinently, "Shall we give up one day to revelry and idleness because we lost $200,000,000 a year ago? Or, shall we devote one day to humiliation, because the loss was not greater, and has been already, to a great extent, repaired?"

During a heavy fog in New York the other day, a large osprey, or fish-hawk, hovered for some time directly above a Greeley banner suspended in a west side street, a circumstance which looks "fishy" for the "Liberal" candidates.

A Michigander sneezed from his nose the other day a Minie ball that had entered his eye during the war.

The action of the sea in forming sand bars at the river mouths along the coast of Natal, South Africa, effectually dams up many of the smaller rivers of that colony during the dry season, usually pushing back the waters inland so as to form a wide lagoon, which overflows the barrier at one of its extremities after the rainy season sets in. An attempt is now being made in the Neilgherry Hills, Southern India, to utilize a like action on the part of the mountain streams, and thereby raise dams for artificial lakes in which to store water for irrigation.

Virginia papers say that large crops of tobacco in that State have been entirely destroyed in the past week by burning up. The late rains, followed by the intensely hot weather, started the tobacco to "firing," as it is called.

The farmers of Illinois are at a loss for ground on which to crib their immense corn crops. The area planted is much larger than ever before, and the yield promises to exceed that of any other crop ever raised in the State.

A novel race came off at Sioux City the other day—the race being between a team of mules and one mule under the saddle; distance seventy-five miles. The team won the race in seven hours and thirty-five minutes.

A white man in Kentucky was convicted of petit larceny last week, and sentenced to receive three lashes on his naked back. When will that State have a Legislature that will raise itself out of the old ruts long enough to erase from its statutes the relic of barbarism which authorizes such punishment?

Whether the mast is short in Arkansas this season, and starvation is driving the squirrels over the wide Mississippi in search of better nut groves, or whether it is merely a freak of fancy on the part of the squirrel tribe, is something which puzzles the river folks up the country no little, but certain it is that they are leaving the former State for the latter, swimming the Mississippi in doing so, by the million.

Co-operative housekeeping, which skeptical people insist can only exist in perfection in Utopia, practiced by the ideal people of Sir Thomas More's brains, really has been tried and found to succeed beyond all expectation in Cleveland, Ohio. In an elegant stone block on a principal street live over a dozen families, with all the comforts and the exclusiveness of home without its care, and at far less expense.

The gentleman who formerly acted in the capacity of King of Oude is organizing a snake show. He expects to exhibit twenty thousand serpents under one pavilion.

PERSONAL.

Osborne P. Anderson, one of the two sole survivors of the armed party under John Brown who made the famous attack on Harper's Ferry, is now an invalid in Boston, stricken with a fatal disease, penniless and in debt. He was the only colored man in that affair who escaped with his life—a brave, stalwart mulatto, on whom Brown placed much reliance.

Lieutenant Colonel James A. Ekin, Deputy Quartermaster General, has been ordered to take charge of the general depot of the quartermaster's department at Jeffersonville, Indiana, relieving Captain Charles H. Hoyt, assistant quartermaster, of all his duties at that station excepting those pertaining to the construction of the new buildings, and directing Captain Hoyt to settle up his accounts in connection with said buildings, and then proceed to San Francisco to report for duty in the Department of Columbia. Colonel Ekin takes charge of the depot above named in addition to his present duties as chief quartermaster of the Department of the South.

A San Francisco reporter, who recently interviewed Joaquin Miller's wife, describes her as follows: "Mrs. Miller is tall and rather fragile in appearance, with a countenance that an artist would deem interesting, although not absolutely handsome. Her eyes are soft, but do not lack courage. When we were received by the lady, she was standing in the center of the room holding a sheet of manuscript in her hand, and with her dark tresses of rich, wavy hair flowing unconfined over her shoulders, would at that moment have formed a fine subject for the brush of an artist."

The Baltimore American understands that Archbishop Bayley will leave Newark for his new position at Baltimore on October 13th. On Thursday a "Pallium," a consecrated vestment in the form of scarf or mantle, composed of white wool and embroidered with purple crosses, worn by the Pope, and sent by him as a mark of honor to patriarchs, primates, and sometimes to bishops, was received from Rome by Bishop Bayley. This is an honor, which, in olden times, was conferred only when the new archbishop asked for it in person or by proxy. Prior to his departure the clergymen of the New Jersey diocese intend to give him a substantial proof of their regret at his leaving, and their happiness at his being the honored recipient of such high ecclesiastical honors.

Pauline Lucca promises to become as great a newspaper nuisance in this country as was Nilsson. Besides occupying great space in the New York papers, she is already the subject of silly telegrams such as "Madame Lucca drove out in Central Park yesterday, and was inexpressibly charmed with the scenery."

"Admiral" O'Keeffe, the newsboy who won the naval cadetship with such honors from the Fifth Congressional district of New York, has gone to Annapolis, and begun his rather trying career. It must be decidedly formidable to have the public lay aside the office of admiral, for a boy to grow up to, and for him to feel himself watched by the press of his native city, ready to chronicle any and every bright achievement he may be the hero of. But the boy, who, without friends or position to aid him, could quietly carry off such laurels as "Johnny" did, is equal to the situation.

Peter Cartwright, the well-known Methodist preacher, died in Chicago last week, at the age of eighty-eight years, having been stricken with paralysis nearly a year ago. For more than half a century he had lead a life more than usually active even for an itinerant preacher of his faith. Though the title of D. D. has been written after his name by some of his admirers, he was a self-made man, who had no educational advantages in his early life. He was a life-long Democrat, taking extreme views on the question of slavery not in harmony with those usually held by members of his church. Notwithstanding the peculiarities of character which distinguished him, he was highly popular in his denomination and in the circle in which he moved.

The Grand Duke Alexis tells every American he meets that he intends to return to the United States, and will be present at the centennial celebration in 1876.

It is said that the Emperor William intends shortly to retire permanently from the emperor business. His eldest son, Prince Frederick William, will continue the trade at the old stand. The old gentleman is in good health, but wishes to live awhile after his son's coronation, in order to prevent him from undermining the influence of Prince Bismarck, who thinks himself a vastly more important wheel in the German national machine than the aforesaid Frederick William.

One of General Sherman's daughters has been cured of a painful spinal disease by magnetic treatment.

Natural Decay—Protect the System.

The human body is a machine, and therefore cannot endure forever; but like a watch or a sewing machine, it will last much longer if properly regulated and duly repaired, than if no pains were taken to keep it in order. The great object of every one who desires a long and healthy life should be to put his body in a condition to resist the life-threatening influences by which we are all more or less surrounded; and no invigorant and corrective at present known, so effectively answers this purpose as the vitalizing elixir which, under the unpretending name of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, has been for more than twenty years the standard tonic of America. In crowded cities, where the atmosphere is contaminated with the effluvia inseparable from large populations; in marshy regions, where the soggy soil reeks with miasma; on the prairies and in the forests, where every fall the air is tainted with exhalations from rotting weeds and grasses, or decomposing leaves—in short, in every locality where malaria exists, this powerful vegetable antidote is urgently needed. Fever and ague, bilious fevers, dysentery, congestion of the liver, jaundice, rheumatism, and all diseases which are generated by infected air, impure water, or sudden changes of temperature, may be averted by strengthening and regulating the system in advance with Hostetter's Bitters. Autumn is always a season of peril, especially to weak, susceptible organizations. Even the more vigorous are apt to be in some measure depressed by the humid atmosphere, loaded with deleterious gases produced by vegetable decay. The fall is a period of the year when the renovation and regulation of the living machine is peculiarly important, and the Bitters should therefore be taken daily at this critical season.

To those having large or small amounts to invest in a profitable way—paying a much larger interest than can be obtained in any other—the few remaining shares of the NEVILLE LOAN AND HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION will be found to present SOME very desirable features.

Every shareholder, without respect to the number of shares held, has an equal share in the profits of the Association, as well as the privilege of loans at light interest.

A small investment will guarantee a loan, whereby many can secure Homesteads at an annual cost about equal to the rent.

The initiation fee is 25 cents on each share of stock.

The weekly dues on each share of stock are 25 cents.

The cost to any laboring man of a few shares of this stock could easily be borne by the manner of weekly installments—and the benefits cannot be over-estimated. It is safe, reliable and very profitable.

The Books of the Association will remain open for a few days longer at the Office, 114 Smithfield street, and at Ernst Luft's, Sixth street; L. J. Brecht, 128 Smithfield street; W. A. Herron, St. Charles Hotel; Robert W. Hare, Penn avenue; and Jacob Dressel, Birmingham.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

MONDAY EVENING, September 30, 1872.

The market opens with an active demand for money on the part of the business community; good commercial paper, which has not been seen in the hands of the bill brokers before this fall, is again making its appearance, indicating the fact that the banks are unable or unwilling to meet the demands of their immediate customers. The national banks are no doubt deterred from extending their line of discounts, as they are daily expecting a call from the Controller. When the next report is made to the department they will be more disposed to exercise that discretion as to the extent of their loans, which should now be intrusted to them, rather than observe the letter of the law at the expense of the business interests with which they are intrusted. The requirements of the 25 per cent. clause brings strongly to mind the answer of the cashier of a "Wild Cat" Indiana bank, during the panic of 1857. When his circulation was presented for redemption he declared, although he had sufficient coin on his counter, that the law required him to keep on hands, in coin, twenty-five per cent. of his circulation, and that if he should redeem the notes presented his reserve would run below the legal limit. So, stoically maintaining his position, the bank went to protest, with the consoling reflection that they died legally, when, however, a little judicious violation of the law would have saved them. So the reserve clause of the National Banking act would inevitably work disaster if rigidly enforced.

—The Farmers' Deposit National Bank takes a rank among the dividend paying institutions of the city. The Board of Directors have decided to declare a 4 per cent. quarterly dividend free from taxes.

—The Department of Finance of the Swiss federal government has issued a report in reply to the document transmitted in May last from Washington urging the adoption of a uniform international standard for gold coin. The Swiss authorities say that they are bound to other states by a monetary convention, and can only examine the proposal with the consent of the other contracting powers. The report expresses dissatisfaction with the monetary changes recently made in Germany, which has adopted the basis of one pound of gold as equal to 15½ of silver, thus making the gold coin to depend on the Prussian thaler. At present there is no accord between the German money and that of France, England or America. To prevent abuses, the report recommends that the German new gold coin should be refused at all public offices.

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, MONDAY, September 30, 1872.

REMARKS—The weather is all that could be wished, cool, light and pleasant, with a promise of a continuance of the same for some time.

The markets show little changes and prices are very uniform. Peaches et cetera are fast disappearing from the market, and commission merchants are seeking other investments.

Butter—Roll has put in an appearance and sells readily at quotations. Barrel, tub and bucket rather dull sale.

Groceries—There is a fair demand with sales at quotations. The demand for fruits continues good; but as the "canning time" will soon be over, there may be a lull in the market. Coffee is rather weak, and it may be that prices will ere long rule lower.

Bacon and Provisions—We do not change our figures as to the prices of these articles. Our quotations are derived from an authentic source, and we have always found them to be correct and reliable.

Flour—Although prices are unchanged, yet there is a feeling abroad that certain grades of stores will ere long go up in price. Mill rates are firm, but not advanced.

Wheat—The stock on hand is rather light, though prices are unchanged. The country millers are the principal purchasers, the mills here not being in the market, being well supplied for the present.

Oats, corn, rye and barley are in light receipt and prices nominally unchanged.

Fruits are in good supply and prices without quotable change. Good cooking, winter and eating apples find ready sale at fair prices.

Cheese is in fair demand, with the supply fully up to the demand. There is no change in prices.

The market is in all respects fully up to the expectations of our merchants and business men, and the full opening of the fall trade is looked forward to with confidence that it will exceed any that has ever occurred here. So mote it be.

Below will be found the wholesale rates of this market unless otherwise noted:

APPLES—Receipts 39 bbls. Sales choice cooking at $1 75 @2 00 per barrel.

ASHES—Common soda ash 5c; refined, high test, 6¾@7c; pearl ash 11@11½c; pot ash 10c; nitrate soda 4½a5c; arsenic 4c; manganese 5c; black lead 6c.

BUTTER—The ruling figures are from 20@25c ℔ ℔; roll 27c; receipts 47 packages.

BROOM CORN—the ruling rates are from 4 to 7c ℔ ℔, as to quality.

BEANS—Prime white navy $2 75@3 00 per bushel.

BANNER BAKING POWDER—¼ ℔ cans $1 75; ½ ℔ cans $3 25; 1 ℔ cans $6 00; 5 ℔ cans $30 ℔ dozen.

CHEESE—Receipts 269 pkgs. Sales at the following quotations: Ohio Goshen 15½@16c; Dairy 12½@13c; Factory 13½@14c; Sweitzer 16@18c.

CARBON OIL—Sales at 19@20c, with the usual advance on jobbing lots.

CEMENT—Beeson's Hydraulic $2 00@2 25 ℔ bbl; Louisville $2 50@2 75; Rosedale $4 5; Eagle $3 00; Johnstown $2 25; calcined plaster $4 50; land plaster $3 50@3 75 ℔ bbl.

CORN MEAL—There is more inquiry, and we are reported sales at $3 25 ℔ bbl.

CANDLES—Stearine, full eight, 16c; 14 ounces, 13½c; star, 14 ounces, 15c; full weight, 19½c.

COUNTRY LARD—Market moderately active at 8@9c per pound.

CONCENTRATED LYE—Sales at $8 00 per case.

BACON AND PROVISIONS—Sugar cured hams 19c; sugar cured shoulders 11c, plain shoulders 9c; rib sides 12c; clear rib 12½c; clear sides 13c; breakfast bacon 15c. Dried beef 16c. Mess pork $18 ℔ bbl. Lard, in tierces 10½c; in half bbls 11c; in buckets 11½c. Receipts—bacon, tierces 85.

FLOUR—The following are the store rates: Penn Mills, fancy white wheat, $8 75; Penn Mills, fancy white wheat, bags, $8 60; 'Our Fritz', red winter, bbls, $8 25; Rising Sun, $8 00; Minnesota Island, old, $8 25; old Wisconsins, $7 50. Oat meal, bbls, $8 00. Rye flour, $5 25.

FEED—We quote as follows: Middlings $1 75 @1 80; second $1 35; shorts $1 00; chopped corn and oats $1 40; chopped corn $1 35; chopped rye $1 85; bolted corn meal 75c per bush.

GRAIN—The receipts of wheat, corn, oats, rye and barley for the past twenty-four hours foot up as follows:

Wheat, sacks	670	Corn, sacks	300
Oats, sacks	2,980	Barley, sacks	1,190
Rye, sacks	170

We are reported sales by car lots, at the following figures: White $1 75; amber $1 70; red winter $1 60@1 65. Corn—yellow shelled 60c; mixed 56c. Oats—white 44c; mixed 42@43c. Rye 78c. Barley—spring, 85c for good to prime, and 93c for choice.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, MONDAY, September 30, 1872.

Cattle.

The receipts of cattle by rail this week amounted to 27 car loads, or about 565 head. In addition to these there were droves from Washington, Beaver, Butler, Greene and Mercer counties, and also from Marshall county, West Virginia, numbering some four hundred head, making a total of from 900 to 1,000 head on sale this morning. The market opened up about six o'clock with a fair number of buyers present. The total of good cattle on sale was not large, and prices on these ruled fair, though not as good as they have been for the last few weeks.

The number of medium cattle on sale was large, as was also common. Trade opened up slow and dull, and continued so until the close. A great number of the cattle offered were unfit for good butchers, being thin, slippery stock, and of course the butchers who buy this kind of stuff, seeing that the amount of it was large, took advantage and purchased at about their own figures. We are of the opinion that common cattle sold to-day for lower prices than for months. At twelve o'clock there were fully two hundred head of cattle unsold, a part of which had never been put in the pens, the owners, seeing the way things were working, preferring to risk the wholesale market rather than risk retail under the circumstances.

Fresh Cows.

The number of fresh cows offered was small. There was a fair inquiry, and we believe all offered changed hands. Sales may be quoted from $35 00 to $60 00 for a young cow, good milker, that can be recommended; from $35 00 to $50 00 for common to good, buyer's risk.

Bulls.

The bull market to-day was the best of the season. The demand was good while the number on sale was small. Sales of all the offerings were made at figures ranging from $2 75 to $3 25.

Texas and Cherokee Stock.

There were on sale to-day different lots of Cherokee cattle. The prices brought were poor, as might be expected on a hard market. Butchers do not like to take hold of them when they can get natives, unless at very low prices.

Stockers.

While there were no lots of cattle offered as stockers the number on sale fit for nothing else was large. There was no demand for stockers, and a good many common were among the unsold.

PRICES.

Extra 1,400 ℔s steers, fine and smooth, $7 00; extra 1,300 ℔s steers, fine and smooth, $6 75 to $6 85; extra 1,200 ℔s steers, fine and smooth, $6 25 to $6 50; prime 1,100 ℔s steers, fine and smooth, $5 25 to $5 50; prime 1,000 ℔s steers, [illegible]

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, TUESDAY, October 1, 1872.

REMARKS—The market at present, at least crude, is a good deal excited. Dealers, at least some of them, have very extravagant ideas of what will be the prices of oil in a few days. Just now correct figures would be difficult to furnish, as none of the dealers agree. The shutting down of the wells will undoubtedly have a favorable effect on prices. We know of no just reason why the oil producers should not obtain a fair price. At Parker's and at other points in the oil regions prices are nominal. In a day or two prices will undoubtedly be regulated.

REFINED.

The market continues firm. Dealers reported sales of 120 fire test at 25½c per gallon.

OIL BARRELS.

The demand is improving. Holders are firmer in their prices. We quote city make $1 90@1 95; county $1 85.

[By Western Union Line.]

TITUSVILLE, September 30.—The Herald says: The market is firm on both roads, with a further advance in prices. There were few transactions. Our correspondents in the lower districts report no sellers, holders waiting for a rise, which all are satisfied will be the inevitable result of the present movement. Following are the sales:

500 bbls upper road, spot	$3 40
500 bbls upper road, spot	3 45
500 bbls upper road, spot	3 50
500 bbls upper road, spot	3 52½
1,000 bbls upper road, spot	3 55
500 bbls lower road, spot	3 35
500 bbls lower road, spot	3 40
1,000 bbls lower road, spot	3 45
500 bbls Oil City, spot	3 85
1,000 bbls Oil City, spot	3 85

NEW YORK, September 30—Closing the 28th.—For crude in bulk there is more demand and prices firm; market 12@12½c; sales 1,300 bbls at inside prices. For refined there is more demand, with sales of 5,000 bbls for short delivery at 24½c; 1,000 bbls at 24c; 4,000 bbls, deliverable to suit vessel at 24c. Cases steady and held at 28¾@29¼c, with a moderate shipping demand. Philadelphia delivery quiet; holders firm—price, 23½c for refined, short delivery, but no demand.

PHILADELPHIA, September 30.—Market steady; crude in bulk 12c; cases 28½c; sales none.

OIL CITY, September 30.—Market firm and advancing; 400 bbls upper road sold at $3 80; lower road $3 85.

PETROLEUM CENTER, September 30.—Market firm at $3 70@3 80; some asking $4 00.

ROUSEVILLE, September 30.—No market; no sellers at any price.

TITUSVILLE, September 30.—Market nominally $3 75 @3 80.

[By Pacific and Atlantic Line.]

TITUSVILLE, September 30.—Market quiet and firm; spot $3 60@3 65.

NEW YORK, September 30.—Market very firm; holders are asking higher prices; no buyers, and it is impossible to give correct quotations. Crude is firmly held; no transactions.

PHILADELPHIA, September 30.—Nothing doing; spot 23½@24c. It is impossible to give figures. [illegible] 25; no sellers; market very firm.

IRON MARKETS.

NEW YORK.

September 28.—The market for Scotch pig is perhaps a shade firmer. The stocks here have reached very low quantities, and being now closely concentrated, holders ask full rates. Advices from the other side state that several thousand tons of Coltness for next year's deliveries have been taken at 160 shillings, which would cost about $62 50@63 laid down here, while the other brands are higher in proportion. For the present no decline is looked for, as the situation is likely to be light for some time to come. We have only to report a sale of 50 tons Clyde at a price not transpired; other sales have been made, but particulars are withheld for the present. The prices of Lehigh brands are fully maintained, and, with a good demand, still better figures may be looked for. Large contracts for Thomas, Crane and other brands have been made for next year's delivery at very full rates; we quote No 1, $56@57; No 2, $53@54; and gray forge about $49. 100 tons No 1 Crane sold at $55, deliverable at Hoboken. Rails are quiet; we quote new English $75 gold, and American $85@87 50 currency. Old English are dull and about $48@50 gold, without sales. Scrap is also weak at about $50@47 from dock, and $48 50@49 from yard, with sales of 200 tons No 1 at about $50. [illegible] 400 No 1 wrought from yard and 150 do wrought scrap, on terms not made public. Refined bar is steady and firm, with a fair business at our quotations. We note a sale of 50 packs Russia sheet, stained at 15½c gold.

BALTIMORE.

September 28.—The market for American pig iron is firm with good demand. Prices remain unchanged, and we quote anthracite at $55 for No 1; $53 for No 2; $48 for No 3. Charcoal forge is active and sells at $55@60 for cash, and we hear of some lots of car wheel iron for which $85 was paid. Scotch pig is higher, and is selling at $55 for Eglinton, and $58 for Gartsherrie, both ex-ship.—American.

Production of Iron.

The production of iron has doubled within the last sixteen years. In 1856 the total production was 7,000,000 tons; in 1872, 14,000,000 tons. In 1856 the average consumption of iron in the world was 17 pounds a head; in 1871, 30 pounds a head. In 1856, in Great Britain, the consumption per head was 144 pounds; in the United States, 54 pounds. In 1872 the consumption in Great Britain was 220 pounds per head; in the United States, 150 pounds per head.

WOOL MARKETS.

NEW YORK.

September 28.—There is a little more life in the market. Buyers are more plenty, and while some holders sell at the best, others hold on. Manufacturers are doing a little more, but do not feel free to buy heavily. We do not learn of any change in fleeces and pulled wools. The stock is moderate and nearly any coming, as the present state of the market will not guarantee expense to shippers from the west. The better grades of California are selling moderately. There is very little being offered of the above, but common and medium descriptions are plenty. There has been a very fair business in Cape wools, but in foreign there is not much doing. Sales since our last have been made at: The sales are 40,000 lbs Michigan and Wisconsin at 55c; 10,000 lbs scoured at 80@90c; 15,000 lbs No 1 State at 55c; 9,000 lbs Ohio at 58c; 3,000 lbs Kentucky at 55c; XX Ohio at 60c; 60,000 lbs scoured on private terms; 8,000 lbs State at 60c; 10,000 lbs scoured at [illegible]; 10,000 lbs Georgia at 50c; 17,000 lbs scoured at private terms; 25,000 lbs [illegible] extra on private terms; 45 bags pulled at 54c, 24 bags super on private terms; 7,000 lbs lambs' at 50@60c; 24,000 lbs Texas on private terms; 12,000 lbs California spring on private terms; 158,000 lbs spring on private terms; 70 bales burry at 27c; 5,000 lbs [illegible] at $1; 6,000 lbs do at 82½c; 11,000 lbs unwashed Montevideo at 40c; 1,000 lbs scoured Banda Oriental at 95c; 15,000 lbs Donskoi at 34@35c; Cape at 42c; 500 bales Donskoi on private terms; 2 bags Mestiza at 70c; and 187 bales Port Phillip and 1 2 sales Australian on private terms.—Journal of Commerce.

THE marks last evening indicated twenty-two inches and falling. The only boat making any pretensions of navigating the Ohio from this port is the C. L. McCormick.

Trade in the slack water continues moderately active for the season. The water is getting thin.

THE United States packets on the slackwater leave daily at 8 A. M. and 5 P. M. These boats are sidewheelers and were built expressly for the trade, and are in charge of careful and attentive officers. For further information call on the Captain, A. S. Carlile, on the wharfboat.

Old Lawrenceville Illuminated!

The People of the New Districts Awake.

Grand Torchlight Procession.

Immense German and English Meetings Last Night.

The good people of Lawrenceville were fully awakened last night to the fact that the Republicans of old Allegheny county intended to do their duty at the coming elections, and by the display of lanterns and bunting effectively made known the fact that the great majority of the residents of the district were faithful to the Union and the friends of the Republican cause.

As our readers are aware, a torchlight procession had been arranged for last night to be participated [illegible] marching clubs of the Fifteenth, Sixteenth, [illegible]teenth wards. Eight o'clock [illegible]rds named in line and in a [illegible]ift club preceded by Sam [illegible] arrived at the point of forma[illegible]et and Penn avenue, and was ac[illegible]he right of the procession.

The chief marshal, Gen. A. L. Pearson, then formed the procession in line, as follows: Great Western band; chief marshal and aids, on horseback; Hartranft club preceded by Hellick's martial band; Gov. Harriman, of New Hampshire, and Gen. J. S. Negley, speakers of the evening, in carriages; a delegation of torchmen from the Solar Hoop mill; the Fifteenth, Sixteenth and Eighteenth ward marching clubs; the Fort Pitt club; Seventeenth ward marching club preceded by a martial band; Seventeenth ward junior club, the Etna club bringing up the rear. The procession moved up Butler street amid the shouts of assembled thousands and over the published route of procession amid a blaze of fireworks and colored fires.

The decorations along the route were quite extensive, and some of them very very beautiful. Lange's drug store, Mr. Henry Daub's place of business, the residences of Deputy Mayor Nichols, Mr. S. W. Teese, Mr. Jancey, Mr. Hatfeld, Bracken Hall, and a host of other business houses and residences were tastefully decorated and beautifully illuminated. The residences on the south-eastern corner of Butler and Forty-third streets, were gaily decorated; in the door of each two pretty little children dressed in white, stood upon tables and waved National flags amid a blaze of colored fires and cheers from the clubs.

It was after nine o'clock when the head of the procession reached the place appointed for the mass meeting, corner of Forty-sixth and Butler streets. Here a stand had been erected and very handsomely decorated with flags, lanterns and evergreens. As the head of the torchlight procession approached a perfect shower of fire-works filled the air, and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed.

THE MEETING.

At the stand there was gathered an assemblage of at least two thousand persons. The meeting was called to order by Mr. William Smith, chairman of the Seventeenth ward Grant club. The secretary, Mr. G. R. Pearson, then read the following list of officers:

President—George W. Glass.

Vice Presidents—Dr. A. H. Gross, A. J. Cochran, Wm. Walton, John H. Sneenberger, Wm. Smith, J. Wallace, John Kirsey, Sr.; Col. Andrew Scott, T. Keller, John W. Riddell, John H. Kerr, Chas. North, G. W. Nichols, George Halgrove, Henry Dabb, John Graitge, George Hoerr, Sr.; Capt. Ed. Evans, Sam McMahan, J. B. Young, Daniel Donahue, Hon. E. H. Stowe, J. T. McClure, Joseph Craft, Holland Riddle, P. M. Cushing, George McKee, John McMasters, J. B. Lyons, S. B. Williams, W. W. Wallace, S. M. Kier, David Kirk, T. B. Stewart, B. F. Watson, T. J. Dickey, J. M. Pennock, A. J. Harbaugh, John C. Boyd, John Davis, Henry Williams, F. Jefferies, J. McC. Creighton, Ed. Davison, Sr.; J. B. Murray, J. Smith, Thomas Marten, J. McGinnis, G. Roberts, M. Steel, J. G. Stenger, J. J. Albeitz, John McKenney, Dr. Wm. M. Kern.

Secretaries—G. R. Pearson, H. E. Johns, James Campbell, John G. Robinson, Joseph Darrah and reporters of the press.

Mr. Glass was then introduced, amid great applause, and thanked the meeting for the honor conferred upon him. He concluded a few appropriate remarks by introducing Governor Harriman, of New Hampshire. The speaker delivered an able address, confining his remarks mainly to national issues. He was frequently interrupted by applause. General James S. Negley followed, and was most enthusiastically received. The General made a strong argumentative speech, confining himself principally to a review of the condition of the national finances and an explanation of "why Greeley was nominated," concluding with an eloquent appeal in behalf of the State ticket.

Other gentlemen followed, the great mass in attendance listening attentively to all that was said, and frequently demonstrating their loyalty to the Union by the most hearty cheers.

A German Meeting.

After the procession had moved from the place of formation a German Republican meeting was organized in front of the Lawrenceville Savings Bank, at the forks of the road. This meeting was called to order by John H. Kerr, Esq., when the following officers were elected:

President—D. L. L. Arensburg.

Vice Presidents—Dr. L. J. Armstrong, Andrew Kloman, Henry Daub, Stephen Dietrich, Geo. Hoerr, J. J. Albeitz, Geo. Nessenthaler, J. B. Faber, Wm. Jahn, C. C. Armstrong, John Orth, K. F. Lange, Louis Hoerr, G. H. Ronshausen, G. F. Klopp, Geo. Herb, John Upperman, Geo. Flaccus, John Gangwisch, G. F. Rommel, W. A. Barnthager, B. F. Becks, Henry George.

Secretaries—John Hoerr and Wm. Slagle.

Able addresses in the German language were made by Gen. Manke and Gen. Beahle, which were listened to very attentively by the large assemblage of Germans in attendance.

In a word, the procession and meetings last night in the Lawrenceville district were grand successes, and reflect great credit upon all concerned in their management. To the people, too, great credit should be given for the admirable, liberal and very attractive manner in which the houses on the route of the procession were decorated and illuminated.

The Next Grand Jury.

The following persons were yesterday drawn to serve as Grand Jurors for the December term of the Quarter Sessions: Frederick Kauff, saloon keeper, Mt. Washington; D. E. Anderson, blacksmith, Fifth ward, Allegheny; James Gilmore, farmer, Wilkins township; Cambell Stanton, clerk, Sixth ward, Allegheny; John Calbraith, glass blower, Birmingham; Henry Gerwig, rope maker, Third ward, Allegheny; Isaac Stewart, alderman, Fifth ward, Allegheny; A. B. Hayden, jury commissioner, Fifth ward, Pittsburgh; Bell Patterson, farmer, Mifflin township; Daniel McKinney, gardener, Twelfth ward, Pittsburgh; Charles Jeremy, broker, Seventh ward, Pittsburgh; John A. Strain, alderman, Fifth ward, Pittsburgh; Samuel McKee, glass merchant, Fourteenth ward, Pittsburgh; Isaac Neely, farmer, Franklin township; A. J. Bown, carpenter, McKeesport; J. H. Hayes, gentleman, Twenty-third ward, Pittsburgh; Henry Shutley, machinist, Eighth ward, Allegheny; R. M. Blair, carpenter, Fourth ward, Allegheny; Patrick Vallally, confectioner, Monongahela borough; Joseph Ganster, gentleman, Nineteenth ward, Pittsburgh; Thomas M. Howe, merchant, Twenty-second ward, Pittsburgh; Robert Ralshouse, saloon keeper, First ward, Allegheny; W. K. Woodwell, merchant, Twentieth ward, Pittsburgh; Edwin Pearce, miller, McCandless township.

CITY MATTERS IN BRIEF.

THE crossing at the foot of Smithfield street is in a very poor condition.

READ the advertisements of the Republican meetings called for to-night.

HON. H. B. SWOOPE will speak at New Brighton on Wednesday evening.

PAINE, the perfidious peddler of perjuries, has pulled up pegs and gone to Ohio.

FORTY-THIRD STREET was brilliantly illuminated last night. Even the ladies were engaged in burning colored fires.

THE many friends of Mr. Gottlieb Faas will be pleased to learn that he has recovered from his late illness and is about again.

THE Birmingham Market Committee, on Saturday, honored Justice Salisbury by naming the new town building "Salisbury Hall."

GEN. A. L. PEARSON, Chief Marshal of the Lawrenceville procession last night, was the recipient of many boquets along the route.

ROBERT OWENS, who killed Mrs. M. J. Cozzens, on the night of the 18th inst., and who is now in Dixmont, has become so violent that he has to be kept in irons.

THERE will be a Republican meeting at Lebanon Postoffice this evening. Col. T. M. Bayne, Capt. J. S. Haymaker and others are expected to be present and deliver addresses.

REV. DR. PATTERSON, formerly President of Westminster College, Lawrence county, Pa., well known in this community, died on Monday, 23d ultimo, at his residence near Washington, Iowa.

THE choir of the First Presbyterian Church did some excellent singing at the meeting of the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday night. This musical organization is now considered one of the best in the city.

THE new Twelfth ward school house, on the corner of Smallman and Thirty-first streets will be dedicated on Thursday evening next at seven and a half o'clock. Judge Kirkpatrick will deliver the dedicatory address.

THE headquarters of General J. B. Sweitzer, commanding the First Division of the Second Corps for the procession to-night, will be at the Lincoln Club rooms. At the head of the column will be the Grant Hussars and the Hartranft Club.

GEN. JAMES A. EKIN and his son will arrive in the city on Saturday, in order to be present at the election next Tuesday and cast their votes for Hartranft and the whole Republican ticket. They will also return in November to vote for Grant and Wilson.

YESTERDAY afternoon, while a little son of Mr. A. P. Norton was playing with some companions, he was thrown violently to the ground, dislocating his elbow joint. Dr. McCormick reduced the dislocation. The injured lad resides with his parents on Mt. Washington.

AT THE conclusion of the Republican demonstration in Lawrenceville, last night, Mr. John Chislett kept "open house" at his residence, and entertained a host of his friends. It was a late hour when the last cheer for the host echoed among the trees surrounding his mansion.

THE anniversary of the opening of the Home for Aged Protestant Women, located at Edgewood Station, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, will be held on Thursday next, at the Home. Lunch will be served from ten o'clock until four. Tickets of admission can be had from any of the lady managers.

MAFFITT AND BARTHOLOMEW, the renowned pantomimists and special favorites, are in this city, and will appear at the Academy of Music, October 14th, under the management of Mr. Beamer. On the seventh instant the Maffitt combination will appear in Wheeling under the same management.

A CLEVELAND paper of Saturday, says: John McCarthy, a foot-pad, was arrested in Pittsburgh, a day or two since, and brought to this city, for assaulting and robbing Hugh Dunnigan of $625 a short time since, on River street. The prisoner was brought before Judge Towner, yesterday, and waived an examination, and bail was placed at $1,000. He could not secure bail, and was committed.

MR. ROBERT D. CRUMPTON made informations yesterday against James Cox, Thomas McGarvey and William Henry, charging them with entering his dwelling, No. 49 Colwell street, and stealing a gold watch, chain, ring and other articles of jewelry. Cox and McGarvey were arrested and the police are after Henry. The defendants are supposed to be interested in several robberies committed lately in Allegheny.

YESTERDAY Thomas Keefer made an information before Mayor Blackmore charging Edward and Daniel McSchaffrey and Elijah Hague with felonious assault and battery. It is alleged that the accused attacked the prosecutor, who is quite an aged German, and beat him severely. The affray occurred on Sunday night near the corner of Fifth avenue and Magee street. Defendants were arrested and held for hearings.

THE new districts of this city, comprising the South Side boroughs, the wards being numbered from twenty-four to thirty-six, commencing with Ormsby and ending with Temperanceville, have received notice of the first official act of Mayor Blackmore concerning them, in the form of an election proclamation for the second Tuesday of October. The candidates for Deputy Mayors are organizing their forces for an attack upon the appointing power.

ON Sunday evening flames were discovered issuing from a new two-story brick dwelling, with Mansard roof, Vermont street, Allegheny, owned by A. W. Seip, but had not yet been occupied. The building was entirely destroyed and a number of others damaged. The following are the losses: The loss on the new building, where the fire originated, was $5,000. No insurance. The second house, owned and occupied by Thomas Frazier, was damaged to the extent of $800; insured for $600. The third house, owned and occupied by A. P. Morrison, was damaged to the amount of $1,000; fully insured. The houses occupied by B. F. Rigens and Joseph Welsh were damaged to the extent of $2,000. The origin of the fire has not been ascertained.

ALLEGHENY AWAKE.

Two Enthusiastic Meetings Last Night—Addresses by Hon. Ebenezer McJunkin, Hon. P. C. Shannon and Others.

Last evening the Republicans of the lower part of Allegheny held a rousing meeting at the corner of Ridge avenue and Rebecca street. The Fifth and Sixth wards marching clubs turned out, and paraded a number of streets, on the line of which the houses were beautifully decorated and illuminated. All along the route of the procession, cheer after cheer rent the air, and the wildest enthusiasm prevailed. The meeting was the largest held yet in that part of the city.

At eight o'clock the meeting was organized by electing Mr. John Lavely President and the usual number of Vice Presidents. The President made a neat address, after which he introduced Hon. P. C. Shannon.

Mr. Shannon commenced by saying that one question in the canvass was overlooked, which was very important to the people of these cities, and that was, the protection of American industry and labor. The speaker asked what was the position of the Democratic party in this State upon this subject of a protective tariff, and what did that party proclaim in its platform at Reading? You may search in that platform from beginning to end and you will find not a word on tariff, protective policy or protection to labor. Why this silence? Why is this great party so reticent on this vital question? They were Pennsylvanians who assembled at Reading, and yet they overlooked the fact that that protective policy, which is necessary for the prosperity of the State, had been sealed.

On the other hand, examine the platform adopted by the Republican party last April at Harrisburgh. The speaker then read that part of the platform referring to the tariff, as follows: "That we are now more than ever called to sustain the policy of National protection to American industry, for the laborer is worthy of his hire, and a fair day's work entitles the worker to a fair day's pay. We must continue to throw the protecting arms of the government around those who toil for their daily bread. The protective policy alone makes labor contented and capital secure. It renders employment certain, and pay ample and satisfactory, while free trade means that our laborers and mechanics must either work for lower wages, or that our factories should be closed through foreign competition, and the workingmen of the country deprived of employment." The speaker then amplified upon this resolution, and declared that the Republican party was pledged to every principle therein set forth. The prosperity of the workingmen and the laborers of the country was essential to the prosperity of all other classes, and should be a foremost subject of National and State legislation.

In this State contest Hartranft heads the ticket earnestly pledged to the protection of American industry and the rights of labor. Buckalew, on the other hand, heads the ticket framed by Pennsylvanians on another platform, utterly refusing to say a syllable on the subject, and are as silent as the grave and as cold as ice. Let the workingmen invoke that Democratic platform and ask what that party has to say upon a measure so vital to them. They will invoke in vain for no responsive sound will be emitted. Buckalew, then, is the representative of an antagonistic policy, the one adverse to the principles enunciated in the Republican platform. Gen. Grant, as his messages show, is also pledged to the protective system. Greeley, on the other hand, ignored his past course, and, tempted by the glittering prize of the Presidency, leaves the question to the congressional districts. He has pledged himself that, if he should be elected, and a majority of Congress should pass a bill hostile to protection, that he would approve of it though his own judgment might be against it, and though it might prove detrimental to the people.

He has gone further by ignoring the veto power the same as if no such power existed in the constitution. He would hold it as null and void. Gen. Grant, on the other hand, has publicly declared, and has acted upon this declaration, that if Congress would pass a bill which, in his judgment, would be inimical to the interests and rights of the people, that he would exercise the veto power. The speaker asked what would be the condition of these cities and of this community if it had not been for this benign policy. Without it our cities would have been stunted and our industries limited, abolish it and our trade and commerce and our manufactories would languish. He concluded by an earnest appeal to the working men and mechanics present to stand fast to this party which is working in the advocacy of their truest rights and interests.

The speaker was frequently interrupted with applause, and retired amid much enthusiasm.

Able addresses were made by Major Slagle, John S. Robb and Joseph Haymaker, after which the crowd dispersed with three rousing cheers for Hartranft.

The Meeting in the Diamond

Another large meeting was also held in the Diamond. The meeting was organized by the election of the following officers:

President—Hon. Judge Veech.

Vice Presidents—John Heath, Samuel A. Purviance, John W. Chalfant, Henry Irwin, H. S. Fleming, Geo. S. Head, Dr. J. B. Herron, A. M. Byers, R. Dalzell, John Wegraw, B. F. Jones, David McCandless, C. C. Hussey, J. D. Layng, James Park, Jr.; Wm. Stewart, A. S. W. Painter, Wm. Stockton, S. A. Neale, Benj. Pulpress, John Clark, Sam. Druitt, Dr. W. R. Thorn, W. H. Brown, John Catlin, Thos. Lysle, John W. Terry and Lewis McMullen.

The President, after a few remarks, introduced the Hon. Ebenezer McJunkin. He commenced by saying that the Republican party would gain a great victory in October and also in November. He then recounted the glorious achievements Gen. Grant had gained during the war, and also reviewed his administration, and then inquired why should not Grant receive the suffrages of the people.

He then asked where was Buckalew when Hartranft was carrying the flag of his country. He was across the border on the Canadian side, where a council was held for the purpose of planning an insurrection in the North, and planning the burning of New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati, and thus to aid the rebellion. Buckalew and Greeley were there, and gave them great aid and council. Buckalew had left his seat in the Senate for the purpose of attending this meeting. Warrants were out for his arrest more than once. The speaker challenged any one present to produce a single loyal vote that he cast while in the Senate. If the Speaker had been on the Investigating Committee, appointed to examine into the charges made against Hartranft, he would not only have pronounced him innocent, but would also have directed the conspirators to pay the costs, for this tirade against Hartranft is a conspiracy.

He then said: Suppose Greeley was in the Presidential chair for the past nine or ten months. Grant has reduced the debt three hundred and forty millions of dollars, but instead of this Greeley would have increased it. He then noticed the bill passed last winter in Congress allowing a person in one of the Southern States a claim of $25,000 on account of the destruction of his property. Grant vetoed the bill on the ground that a flood of bills of a similar character would be presented. The speaker believed if Greeley had been President, he would have approved the bill, and as a consequence claims for over one billion dollars would be presented, which would increase instead of decreasing the debt. The rebels still believe they will be remunerated for the loss of their slaves and property; and this they expect from the Democratic party. If Greeley is elected it will be done. The speaker also stated that Greeley had pledged himself, if elected, to appoint to office those who support him; and thus he could not appoint any loyal men, but only traitors, rebels, copperheads, etc. He then closed by saying that he wanted a loyal government four years longer. The centennial would take place in 1876, and he did not want a disloyal government at that time.

Hon. T. J. Bigham was next introduced and spoke at considerable length. He referred to Paine and his affidavits, and in the course of his remarks said he had learned that he was a most consummate scoundrel, and that even Bill McMullen was ashamed of him. He also referred to the charges recently made against Hartranft about his visiting the saloons in this city and drinking to intoxication, which he pronounced to be false, and the charge only showed the desperation of the opposition. He then spoke at length on the Evans affair and closed by reviewing Buckalew's record, after which the meeting adjourned.

PUBLIC AMUSEMENTS.

Pittsburgh Opera House.

That popular, talented and especial favorite with our theater goers, Mr. C. W. Couldock, made his first appearance this season, last night, to a large and intelligent audience. The emotional drama, the "Willow Copee," was the attraction with Mr. Couldock as Luke Fielding. In the rendition of this character Mr. Couldock has no equal, a fact fully testified to by the liberal applause of the audience of last evening. To-night Mr. Couldock appears as John Probity in that pretty little domestic drama, "The Chimney Corner." The play has been admirably cast and we can assure all who attend of an evening of genuine enjoyment. That excellent old farce, the "Clockmaker's Hat," will be the afterpiece.

Aims's American Theater.

For this week a number of additions have been made to the excellent company performing at this house, among them Mr. M. O. Reardon, who performs upon the crystal chimes and musical glasses; Miss Maggie Gray, a talented comic vocalist, and a number of others make their debut this evening, when an attractive performance will be given.

Varieties Theatre.

Managers Gardner and Trimble announce quite a number of new artists for this week, among them Miss Letitia McKenzie, one of the most graceful dancers of the day; Miss Dollie May, Miss Lizzie Warren, and a number of others. Walter Bray has changed from Fifth avenue to the Varieties, where he will continue to please his many admirers. See bills of the day.

The Christian Alliance.

The members of this Alliance held a meeting yesterday, and discussed the question, "What is the duty of Christian voters in regard to the use of the ballot in favor of the cause of Temperance?" The Rev. T. N. Boyle, Rev. S. M. Henderson, G. W. Bradley, Esq., Rev. S. B. Reed, Rev. W. J. Reed, Rev. Mr. Evans, Rev. J. J. McIlyar, Rev. I. W. McKeever, Rev. G. G. Westfall and others participated in the discussion.

The following resolution was offered by the Rev. W. J. Reed at the close of the debate:

Resolved, That a committee be appointed to report to this Alliance the standing of the candidates for office in Allegheny county on the subject of Temperance.

The following meetings will be held during the week: To-day (Tuesday) at 7½ o'clock P. M. in the United Presbyterian Church, corner Bingham and Fourteenth streets, Birmingham; also at Banksville the same evening, and Thursday, October 3d, at Baptist Church, Nixon street, Sixth ward, Allegheny.

Mortuary Report.

Dr. J. G. McCandless, physician to the Board of Health, reports that during the week ending September 29, there were thirty-two deaths. Of those who died 16 were males, and 16 females; 30 were white and 2 colored. The causes of death were as follows: Alcoholism, 1; bronchitis, 1; consumption, 2; convulsions, 1; congestion of brain, 1; diphtheria, 3; disease of spine, 1; disease of stomach, 1; dropsy of the chest, 1; fever, typhoid, 5; haematemesis, 1; henerplegia, 1; inflammation of bowels, 1; inflammation of lungs, 1; inanition, 2; marasmus, 5; putrid sore throat, 1; premature birth, 1; still births, 2. The ages of the deceased were as follows: Under 1 year, 9; from 1 to 2, 8; from 2 to 5, 3; from 5 to 10, 1; from 10 to 15, 1; from 15 to 20, 3; from 20 to 30, 5; from 30 to 40, 1; from 50 to 60, 1; from 70 to 80, 1.

Fire on the South Side.

Yesterday morning about two o'clock a fire occurred in Lower St. Clair township, near the Mount Washington line, in a double-frame dwelling belonging to Mr. Wm. Jones, but occupied by another family. The fire arose from a defective flue, and the house was completely consumed, together with all the furniture and personal effects of the family—nothing being saved. The flames had gained great headway before the inmates were aroused from their slumbers, and it was with the greatest effort that all escaped from a horrible death.

More Stone Throwing.

Last night while the Lawrenceville torchlight procession was passing along Butler street, some scoundrel threw a stone from a dark yard in front of a residence in the rear of the Lawrenceville Savings Bank. The missile struck the captain of the Seventeenth ward club, Mr. Thos. Bell, not injuring him very severely, however. No sooner was it known that the captain had been struck than a dozen of the members of the club left the ranks and made a thorough search of the yard and premises in question in pursuit of the hidden enemy. It was lucky for the coward that he was not found, as he would undoubtedly have been roughly handled.

Bill Ignored.

Yesterday the Grand Jury had before it the bill against Capt. J. S. Haymaker, of the Eleventh ward Republican club, charged with riot. After listening to the evidence of several witnesses the jury returned the bill "ignoramus." The informations against the several colored persons accused of being concerned in the riot have not yet been reached by the grand jurymen.

Pardoned.

Alexander Hammer, sentenced to the county jail by Judge McCandless, for contempt of Court in refusing to obey the decree in the Roberts torpedo case, was yesterday released on a pardon from President Grant. Hammer's wife is lying at the point of death, and this doubtless induced the President to grant the pardon.

PITTSBURGH COUNCILS.

Stated Meeting Yesterday—Petitions, Resolutions, Ordinances—Street Improvements—The Equalization of the Valuation of Property for Taxable Purposes—Wood Pavement for Old Penn Street—Order and Decorum in Councils—The Wooden Building Ordinance, &c., &c.

Yesterday our City Councils held a regular meeting. The proceedings were as follows:

SELECT COUNCIL.

A quorum being present Clerk Morrow read the minutes of the last meeting, which were approved.

Mr. Rafferty—Remonstrance against certain sewer assessments on Cherry alley. Committee on Appeals.

Mr. E. P. Jones—Petition for water pipe on Rose street, between Dinwiddie and Overhill streets. Water Commission.

Mr. R. H. Smith—Petition and ordinance providing for change of grade on Liberty avenue, between Thirty-third and Fortieth streets. Survey Committee.

Also, petition for change of grade of Thirty-eighth and Thirty-ninth streets, between Liberty and Penn avenues, and resolution directing the City Engineer to suspend work on said streets until further orders. Referred to Street Committee.

Mr. Litteil—Petition for water pipe on Torrens street. Water Commission.

FROM COMMON COUNCIL.

Ordinance providing for the opening of Valley street, from Thirty ninth to Fortieth street; opening Bates alley from Locust street to Wilson street; report of Street Committee for August. All concurred in.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS.

Mr. Phillips asked a suspension of the general order of business for the purpose of taking up an ordinance presented at the last meeting and laid over. The request was granted and the clerk read the ordinance, which provided for a repeal of the ordinance allowing street contractors payment of sixty per cent. on work as it progresses, the amount being payable at the end of each month.

M. Burgwin, Mr. E. P. Jones and others strongly opposed the passage of the ordinance, and Messrs. Phillips, McCune, Shipton and other gentlemen spoke in its favor.

After a long discussion, Mr. Burgwin moved to refer the matter to a committee of five—two from Select and three from Common Council—to report whether some better plan cannot be adopted to obviate the difficulty than by repealing the ordinance. Adopted, and Messrs. Phillips and Burgwin appointed in Select Council. Common Council concurred, and appointed Messrs. W. B. Negley, McCandless and Jones.

ORDINANCES, PETITIONS, ETC.

An ordinance relative to the laying and removing of sewers, tracks, &c., for purposes of making street or other improvements, was referred to the City Solicitor.

The Controller asked the transfer of $4,218 from appropriation No. 18 to No. 7, streets. The transfer was authorized.

An ordinance dividing the Twenty-second ward into two election precincts was objected to, laid over, and subsequently referred to a committee.

An ordinance for grading and paving Our alley was objected to and laid over.

Mr. Wainwright presented a remonstrance against the widening of Mulberry alley. Street Committee.

Ordinances—Grading and paving Blackberry alley, laid over; grading and paving of Wood's Run alley; authorizing change of grade on Fiftieth street, laid over. All other ordinances from the Street Committee authorizing street improvements were objected to and laid over.

EQUALIZATION OF VALUATION.

Mr. McCarthy presented an ordinance providing for the equalization of the valuation of property for purposes of taxation.

The ordinance provides that the City Assessor shall make a complete list of all taxables, with a detailed statement of the property owned by them and the assessed valuation thereof. He shall then deliver to each property owner a list of the property assessed to him. After obtaining such list, the owners of property, or their agents, shall affix thereto the actual cash value of the several items specified, according to their best judgment and belief, and make oath or affirmation to the correctness of the same, and return said lists to the Assessor within sixty days. The Assessor shall then make an alphabetical classification by wards of the list returned to him with the valuations affixed by the property holder, as well as the official valuation last made at the office of the County Commissioners. Where the property owner refuses to comply with the provisions of the ordinance the Assessor is required to determine the valuation of the property according to the best available means, and include the same in the general list for the Board of Revision. A resident in each ward is to be elected on the second Tuesday of December next, and triennially thereafter to serve as a member of the Board of Revision, the duties of which shall be to revise, alter and equalize the value of taxable property. The board shall meet on the second Tuesday of January, 1873, and, after having been sworn, shall proceed to examine the returns made by property owners and to make such increase or reduction, and to alter and amend said list until they shall in their judgment have arrived at the true cash value of all property taxable for city purposes. The board having reviewed and justified the lists shall add up the total valuation of all city property, which amount shall be divided by the aggregate value of the property as now valued on the duplicates in the County Commissioners office, and the quotient thus obtained shall be a common divisor by which the actual cost value of the property of each and every property holder shall be determined, the amounts resulting from this division shall be the equalized valuations of all taxable property, and the levies and assessments for the year 1873 shall be made upon these equalized valuations, and shall remain the lawful valuations until legally altered or amended.

It is provided that in determining the equalization of property in all amounts exceeding one hundred and not exceeding three thousand dollars, the multiple of ten which shall most closely approximate to the sum ascertained, as above specified, and in all amounts exceeding three thousand dollars, the multiple of one hundred, which shall approximate most closely to the sum thus ascertained, shall be taken and assumed to be the correct equalized value; and further, that the aggregate equalized value of property shall not increase the total valuation beyond the aggregate amount assessed for county purposes within the city.

Read once and laid over.

Mr. Jones presented the report of viewers on the opening of Highland avenue from Penn avenue to the location of the new water basin. Approved.

The ordinance providing for the maintainance of better order and decorum in the Council chambers was next taken up, objected to and laid over.

Council adjourned.

COMMON COUNCIL.

A quorum being present, the Council proceeded to business.

RE-PAVING OF PENN AVENUE.

Mr. Gazzam stated that at the last meeting an ordinance had been passed for the re-paving of Penn avenue, from the Point to the junction of Butler street. He understood this improvement would cost $200,000, and it was important to know whether it was to be paid for as a "local" or a "general" improvement. If the city was to pay the whole cost, he would oppose the ordinance, and now desired to have it recalled from Select Council, and referred to the City Attorney for his opinion on the point stated.

President Oliver (Mr. W. B. Negley in the chair) offered a preamble and resolution, as follows:

WHEREAS, An ordinance providing for the repaving of Penn avenue, with wooden pavement, passed this branch at our last meeting; and whereas, said ordinance may be construed so as to make the city pay the whole cost of the improvement; therefore,

Resolved, That said ordinance be recalled from Select, and referred to the Board of Viewers to report as to who shall pay the cost, as provided by act of Assembly.

The resolution was discussed by Messrs. Watson, Oliver, Young, Neeson and McCandless, after which it was passed unanimously.

AN IRON CLAD.

An ordinance was passed granting B. C. Butler privilege to erect an iron clad foundry and machine shop on Duquesne Way, between Third and Fourth streets.

A QUESTION OF DAMAGES.

Mr. D. L. Fleming presented a petition from James G. Weir, wagon maker, on Washington street, calling attention to the outrage about to be perpetrated upon him in the vacation of said street, by which one-half of his business would be destroyed, and asking for the appointment of a committee to investigate the question of damages. The petition was accompanied with a resolution for the appointment of a committee of three to examine into the matter.

A debate ensued upon the propriety of passing a resolution to inquire into a question of damages when no damages had been sustained. A motion was made to postpone further action, upon which the yeas and nays were called, and resulted: Yeas, 29; nays, 19. So the resolution was postponed.

FRAME BUILDINGS.

Mr. Watson presented an ordinance granting permission to the citizens of the Fifteenth, Sixteenth and Seventeenth wards to erect frame buildings in said wards.

Mr. McCandless hoped the ordinance would not pass. It would tend to destroy three of the most important wards in the city.

Mr. Watson advocated the ordinance as a great benefit to the poorer classes, who were struggling to get clear of rents.

Mr. Baum took the same view.

Mr. Oliver, so far as the Sixteenth ward was concerned, had not much to say; but it would, in his opinion, be a step backward, so far as the Fifteenth and Seventeenth wards were concerned, should the ordinance be passed. He gave his reasons, very forcibly, why the ordinance should not pass. For twenty years the policy had been to prevent the erection of wooden buildings, and it would be unjust, at this late day, to permit frame buildings to be stuck in, here and there, between brick houses, thus increasing the liability to fire, raising the rates of insurance, and depreciating property values.

Amendments were made to add the Third, Fifth, Sixth and Seventh wards to those named in the ordinance. The amendments were laid on the table, taking the ordinance with them, and thus it was killed.

ORDER AND DECORUM IN COUNCILS.

Mr. W. B. Negley submitted an ordinance for the better preservation of order and decorum in the Councils, and to compel the attendance of Councilmen. It provides that the Presiding Officer of each Council shall preserve order and decorum, and to this end may order any disorderly person, not being a member of the Council, of his own motion—or being a member, by a vote of a majority—to be ejected from the chamber, and if necessary from the building. That two policemen shall be detailed by the Mayor to be present—one in Select and one in Common Council—at each meeting, to act as Sergeants-at-arms; preserve order in the lobbies, and eject therefrom any disorderly person. That the Sergeant-at-Arms shall also, by order of the President, bring in any member who may be absent for fifteen minutes after the time of meeting, and said member may be fined five dollars, to be collected by the Mayor, for the use of the city, if absent without an excuse satisfactory to the Council.

The ordinance was debated, and finally passed by a vote of 29 yeas to 19 nays. In Select Council it was read once and laid over under the rules.

The railroad ordinance was not taken up in this branch. Printed copies of it, as amended in Select Council, were found upon the desks of the members, and there was a general disposition manifested to give it a very careful reading before final action.

After concurring in business from Select, the Common Council adjourned.

Young Men's Christian Association.

Last Saturday evening the regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association was held at their rooms, Mr. H. K. Porter presiding. Quite a number were present, among them many ladies. The first half hour of the meeting was spent in a prayer meeting, led by Wm. Johnson, after which the regular business of the association was proceeded with. Reports were presented from the following committees: Noon-day, Saturday night, evening reception, open-air lecture, strangers at hotels, and the various cottage-prayer meeting committees. The open-air committee reported a successful series of open-air meetings held during the past summer in Pittsburgh and Allegheny. The lecture committee reported that a course of fifteen lectures had been prepared for the coming season, the first of which would be delivered on the first of November.

Messrs. Johnson, Lincoln, Logan, Moore, Jennings, W. Johnson, Robinson, Orr and Porter, delegates to the State Convention, recently held at Carlisle, each made a few remarks giving incidents transpiring at and impressions produced by the convention, all uniting in the opinion that it was one of the best State Conventions Pennsylvania has ever had.

An amendment to the constitution, increasing the number of board of Directors to twenty-four, was unanimously adopted, and a committee appointed to nominate directors.

A vote of thanks was tendered the choir of the First Presbyterian church, who, under the leadership of Mr. Mellon, had added considerably to the pleasure of the meeting. After which the meeting adjourned.

Attractive Fall Dry Goods.

Attention is invited to the card of Messrs. M. Mentzer & Son, retail dry goods merchants, No. 94 Market street, which appears on our first page today. At their store will be found one of the most attractive assortments of dry goods of every variety ever opened in this city, including the newest styles and most approved patterns in dress goods, shawls, etc., etc. This house is well and favorably known, not only for the superiority of the goods, but also for the reasonableness of the prices asked. The stock presented this fall is well worthy the examination of all who want anything in this line. The ladies are particularly invited to visit the establishment for the purpose of ascertaining for themselves the exact nature of the inducements offered. Mr. Charles Mentzer, the junior partner and the active business man of the house, is one of our most enterprising merchants, and is withal an affable and accommodating gentleman. The salesmen always endeavor to thoroughly please every customer and never resort to misrepresentations of any kind. We cheerfully commend the house to the favor and patronage of our readers, and assure them that they will always be fairly dealt with and courteously treated by those connected with the establishment.

Immense Stock

Of fall hats and caps just received at Wm. Fleming & Co.'s, No. 139 Wood street.

The Improved Dictator—The Model Cook—The Revolution.

The Improved Dictator, a cooking stove manufactured and sold by Mitchell, Stevenson & Co., No. 194 Liberty street, is really a practical, economical, durable and useful stove, having no intricate machinery or dampers, which only a person of long experience can manage, but so simple in its arrangement that any one, however unskilled, can comprehend its construction and operation on the first inspection. In the beauty of its design and outward appearance it is all that could be desired. The Model Cook, another of the stoves made by this firm, is the heaviest, most durable, finest finished, best baker, and most complete cook stove in Pittsburgh. The Revolution is a new self-feeding, base-burning, base heating, gas-consuming parlor stove, designed to burn bituminous coal in the same manner in which anthracite is consumed. This is the only stove of the kind in which soft coal can be used as fuel.

Duff's College—Evening Sessions.

Young men in business cannot spend their evenings to better advantage than by attending the evening sessions of this institution, and there obtaining a knowledge of accounts and learning to write a good business hand.

Writing is a specialty, and the teacher is in attendance to instruct in his art. No engraved copy lines are used. TTH

The Fall Styles

Can all be obtained at the one price hat and cap house of Wm. Fleming & Co., No. 139 Wood street.

Orphan's Court Sale.

Public attention is directed to the advertisement of the Orphan's Court sale of the estate of James Wilkins, in another column. The property to be sold comprises eight lots on Pennsylvania avenue (formerly Ohio avenue), Allegheny; a lot on the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Manhattan street; three lots on Sheffield street; a piece of ground situated at the corner of Locust and Preble streets, upon which is a two-story brick dwelling house containing seven rooms. The terms of sale, which are entirely reasonable, will be found in the advertisement. Messrs. Fetterman, Johnston & Finck, No. 83 Diamond street, are attorneys for the sale of the property. TTHS

Large Stock and Low Prices.

One of the most complete assortments of trunks, valises and ladies' satchels exhibited anywhere in this city or vicinity, may be found at the trunk parlor of Messrs. Vogel & Graham, No. 118 Wood street. This firm claim to have the cheapest trunk house in the city, and a comparison of their prices with those prevailing elsewhere, will amply prove that they have reasonable grounds for their claim. Call and see the goods and be convinced that they are unsurpassed, and that the prices at which they are sold are the lowest that can be obtained.

A Rare Chance for Business.
Thursday, October 10, 1872, at 3 P. M.,

Will be sold the large and commodious Steam Flouring Mills, situated in the Nineteenth Ward, Pittsburgh, within three minutes walk of East Liberty Station, Pennsylvania Railroad, having three run of four feet French Burrs; Engine and Boilers almost new; two Bolting Chests, and having all the late improvements in the way of Machinery for the Manufacture of Flour.

Capacity 200 barrels per day, being one of the best Mills in Western Pennsylvania; has a good Wholesale and Retail Trade, as the books will show; has peculiar advantages for business, and would be very suitable for other manufacturing purposes. Must be seen to be appreciated. If not sold with the Milling Improvements, the House and Lot will be sold separate, the owner reserving the right to take out the Machinery.

PREMIUM AWARDED TO City Pavement Co. FOR PAVEMENT 1871

THE STOW
Foundation
Pavement,
Mechanics' Institute
Premium,
1871.

MECHANICS' INSTITUTE SANFRANCISCO

Report of the Committee on Pavements, at the last Exhibition of the Mechanics' Institute, San Francisco, California, where the Stow Foundation Pavement was first introduced, and where it has been in use the past seven years.

"For general practical use and public benefit, we do not hesitate to pronounce the Stow Foundation Pavement, exhibited by the City Paving Company, together with the actual tests of its durability, as presented by the wear and tear in the streets of San Francisco, to be SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS, when taking into consideration the method of laying it, the time it has been laid, the form of its construction, and by an honest comparison with others which have been submitted to the same test. WE AWARD IT THE FIRST PREMIUM."

Signed, EDWIN A. SHERMAN, JOHN V. HUNTER, } Committee.

Stow Foundation Pavement!

The only Pavement that can be taken up and relaid without injury to the foundation. All Engineers, Builders, Gas and Water Companies and Plumbers, indorse this Pavement.

THE GREAT MERIT OF THE STOW PAVEMENT IS IN ITS SUPERIOR FOUNDATION,
Over all others, either of Wood or Stone, now in use.

It is a well known principle, in fact an AXIOM in Engineering, that where sand can be confined it is the best foundation that can be obtained. This principle—the confinement of sand—is perfectly and thoroughly secured in this pavement by the Wedges which are driven between and below the blocks into the sand, (see cut,) thus securely confining it and rendering lateral displacement, or compression by vertical pressure, totally impossible.

It is also incontrovertible, that where wood is kept uniformly wet, it will not decay. This pavement being laid directly on a sub-stratum of sand, and the surface made air and water-tight, the blocks receive and retain the moisture from beneath by capillary attraction and are uniformly wet, even in the dryest weather; thus decay or dry rot cannot take place.

It is, when finished, a perfectly sectional pavement, each block sustaining the weight required, independent of the other.

It is so constructed that the different pieces do not become loose by use; but the longer the pavement is used the more substantial it becomes.

The gravel does not become loose, as in other pavements but will remain firm as long as the pavement will last.

A portion can be taken up and replaced without injury to the pavement. In taking it up for laying water or gas pipes, or for constructing sewers, there is no necessity of removing any more than what is required for the pipe or sewer, which can be replaced in as firm and substantial manner as the original pavement, at one-fourth the expense of any other wood pavement.

In San Francisco, where the pavement has been in use more than six years, at least nineteen-twentieths of all pavements put down in that city for the past four years have been of the "Stow Foundation," the property owners selecting it in preference to any other pavement. Address,
